SMITH-ROBINSON INDICATED DEMOCRATIC TICKET

MELLON CONFIDENT OF SWEEPING HOOVER VICTORY

Main Problem Is to Keep Convention Going, Will Says

(Special To The News)

HOUSTON, June 28. — The Democrats always do the unusual. They come here with the reputation that they never can get a convention finished, and here we are at one and its main problem is now to keep the thing going till Houston gets its money back.

Smith has been practically approved on the floor of the convention three different times, and Joe Robinson for vice president once. Still they won't go ahead and have it done officially.

We are all just sitting here waiting for the benediction.

The platform it looks like they will adopt is wet on week days and dry on Sundays.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Rev. James A. Drake of Park avenue, in response to the query of Pa Newc, a night or so since, admits that he is one of those persons who in his boyhood visited a livery stable and got his hair clipped. He says, however, that he did not get "licked" for it when he got home, as some of the kids of his day did. Who's next on this "roll of honor"?

Several streets on the North Hill are being oiled, the work being done by the residents of the street. The oiling process will keep the dust down for the summer months on these streets where traffic is heavy.

Here's industry for you. Pa Newc, passing the Public Library on North Jefferson street Wednesday afternoon, saw a small lad, just about able to read, seated on the step leading to the porch of the library, industriously reading a book he had just received inside the library.

Shenango Valley hospital nurses' commencement exercises will be held this evening at the Young Women's Christian Association auditorium on the Public Square. A large audience is anticipated.

How to satiate the jaded appetites of hotel managers, who are used to dining on nectar and ambrosia, and in whose veins flows the ichor of the eternal gods was the problem that confronted Stewart P. Howson, steward of The Castleton, when, Wednesday evening, he had to confect a dinner for the members of the Pittsburgh Hotel Men's Association. And Pa Newc is here to relate that he did himself proud.

It was pointed out to Pa Newc last evening that, after all, traffic officers are also fallible and mortal, like the rest of men. The informant declared that while the officers have the right to enforce the law, that does not mean that they can make the erring driver the target of their heavy sarcasm. In fact, the man advocates a courtesy week among traffic officers.

To Pa Newc Pearson street is by far the most interesting in the city, for there one can see many things. And to those who are interested in the spirit of New Castle, the spirit of industry, he is well repaid for making a short climb up East Washington street, for from Pearson street one gets a truly marvelous view of the industrial section. One can see the furnaces, belching black smoke, one can think back a century or so and see wigwams along the banks of the Shenango and the Neshannock.

Pa Newc often wonders if home cooking is not grossly over-estimated. With the learned food specialists, he believes that, after all, the badge of the American woman is a frying pan. Take the pan away and she is lost. She can do nothing when confronted with huge portions of meats, nor can she manipulate sauces in the same fashion as can men. Cooking is an art: great artists are men. Would Pa Newc be guilty of a fallacy if he concluded that great cooks are men? But the evidence points that way!

Mellon Confident Hoover-Curtis To Get Big Majority

Political Conditions Do Not Indicate Change In Administration, He Says

MELLON IS GOING ON EUROPEAN TRIP

Hoover And Work Preparing To Resign From President's Cabinet

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 28. —Secretary of the Treasury Mellon does not believe that the American people are ready for a change in administration and has complete confidence in a sweeping victory for Herbert Hoover and Senator Curtis in the fall election.

This Mellon indicated to friends today as Hoover was preparing to resign his post in the Commerce Department and as the Democratic party, with unprecedented harmony, was moving towards the close of its convention and the nomination of Governor Smith of New York as the standard-bearer.

Going to Europe

So confident is Mellon as to the outcome of the campaign that he has made reservations to sail for Europe about the middle of July. He plans to spend a few weeks in the rural sections of England and France, but indicated that he would avoid Paris and London.

In the opinion of the secretary, political conditions are very little different today than prior to the election of President Harding in 1920 and President Coolidge in 1924.

Mellon feels that the attacks of the Democratic leaders on the Republi-

Tunnel Kiln Car Is Invention Of New Castle Man

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A "tunnel-kiln car and the method of loading ware thereon" is the invention which has won a patent for George D. Morris, New Castle, Pa., according to the announcement today by the United States Patent Office.

Morris filed his patent application June 22, 1927. His patent has been assigned to the New Castle Refractories Company, New Castle, Pa.

Officially the invention is described as follows:

"In a kiln car, a ware supporting superstructure comprising a permanent arrangement of slabs and posts and a removable post having ware supporting means cooperating with said permanent structure for directly supporting ware to be heat treated."

Convention May End On Friday Evening

(International News Service)

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—Here is a bird's eye view of the situation in the Democratic convention today.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York seems a certain victor on the first ballot.

Sen. Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, permanent chairman of the convention, holds a commanding lead in the race for vice presidential honors.

A resolutions subcommittee finally agreed upon a tentative platform after nine and a half hours of wrangling. It is probable the platform will be reported to the convention this afternoon or tonight.

Smith, George, Ayres and Woolen have been placed in nomination. Cordell Hull, Sen. James A. Reed and others are to be placed in nomination.

The convention probably will come to an end either Friday night or Saturday morning.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM PLANK IS COMPROMISE ON PROHIBITION ISSUE

Platform Makers Agree On Plank For Enforcement Of Laws

Wet And Dry Radicals Fail To Secure Action On Their Demands

By KENNETH CLARK
International News Service Special Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—A strict law enforcement plank, pledging the Democratic party to enforce rigidly the Eighteenth Amendment as well as all other provisions of the Constitution, was written into the platform today by the resolutions sub-committee following an all-night session.

The prohibition plank presented a compromise between the extreme wets and drys and followed a middle course as outlined by those leaders who are seeking to prevent a disruption of the convention on the dry issue.

So satisfactory was the prohibition agreement, said Senator Pittman of Nevada, chairman, that a minority report, either by the wets or the drys, is not anticipated.

McNary-Haugen Not Mentioned

On the other big controversial issue of this convention—farm relief, the platform drafters endorsed the requests of farm leaders for approval of the equalization fee principle by inference without mentioning the McNary-Haugen bill.

"We have given the farmers substantially what they asked for," said Senator Walsh of Massachusetts. The agriculture plank denounces the Republican party for it failure to enact remedial legislation.

In sharp contrast to the bitter fights which have rocked the Democrats in the past, the long meeting of the Files Suit For Nine Millions

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 28.—Naming Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, as a participant in the policies of the Aluminum Company of America, the Baush Machine Tool Company of Springfield today has on file in Federal court a suit for $9,000,000 against that firm and its officers. Secretary Mellon was mentioned in the declaration of the plaintiff but was not made a defendant in the action.

The Springfield company alleged a conspiracy to create an aluminum monopoly and that the monopoly was so successful that business of the Baush company was virtually ruined. The company claims damages of $3,000,000, but sued under the statutory three-fold damage provision.

The bill of the Baush company stated that although Mr. Mellon resigned as a director of the defendant company in 1920, he continued to participate in its policies and management and had been a "dominating factor therein."

Hurls Peanuts To Capture Burglar

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 28.—A ten-pound pail of peanuts floored Harold Remington, 23, of Chicago, who broke into a Falconer grocery store. He is charged with attempted burglary.

Donald Tillotson, store manager, who lives above, heard the man enter and upon investigating found him crouching near the cash register. Tillotson hurled the heavy pail at the man's head and a doctor had to close the wound.

Sen. Reed Refuses To Accept Second Place On Ticket

Fiery Missourian Will Not Accept Nomination For Vice Presidency

STILL HAS HOPES FOR PRESIDENCY

Reed Pledges Support Of Party Choice In November; Plans To Stump Several States

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Texas, June 28.—Sen. James A. Reed, the fighting warrior from Missouri, is not and will not be a candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination but will pledge himself during the convention here to take the stump to give his active support to Gov. Al Smith of New York, it was learned today on the highest authority.

Reed will contest Smith's nomination until the New York man actually has been nominated. In the meantime, he probably will be invited to address the convention and then will take the opportunity publicly to pledge himself to whatever candidate is chosen to carry the Democratic standard in the presidential campaign next November. He probably will speak tonight after the platform is adopted.

Robinson Favored.

Reed's decision to avoid entering the vice presidential race if and when he is defeated for the presidential nomination virtually assured the nomination of Sen. Joseph Robinson of Arkansas for second place honors. With Robinson receiving the solid support of the overwhelmingly powerful Smith organization, his nomination appeared as matter-of-fact as that of the New York governor himself. Only a miracle apparently can prevent Smith and Robinson being the Democratic ticket.

Informal overtures already have been made inviting Reed to address

PREMATURE CELEBRATORS OF FOURTH ARE ARRESTED

Premature celebration of the Fourth of July is not allowed in this city. Chief of Police C. C. Horner stated today that orders had been issued to all members of the police department to pick up all such celebrators, young or old, and bring them to the police station.

Where conditions merit it, he stated, fines will be imposed and as it is not desired to collect any money in this way, he urges the people of the city to see to it that there are no further demonstrations until the Fourth of July.

In accordance with these instructions, officers last night when called twice to South Jefferson street on complaints of residents concerning the use of fireworks, succeeded in arresting James Perry and Mike Panella, aged about 18 years.

This occurred about 12:30 a. m. They were later released on $5 forfeits for their appearance this morning but up until the present time they have failed to appear.

Seventy Five To Leave On July 5 From County For U. S. Citizens Camp

Seventy-five men and boys from Lawrence county will entrain Thursday evening, July 5, for Fort Washington, Maryland, where they will take part in the annual Citizens' Military Training camp, according to Captain Melvin L. Craig, in charge of reserve officer's work in the county.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is running a special train from Pittsburgh to Washington, D. C., to take care of the prospective soldiers. The train will leave Pittsburgh at 10:30, Eastern Standard Time on the evening of July 5, and will arrive in Washington, D. C., the next morning. There the recruits will be met by government officials and taken down the Potomac river to Fort Washington on a boat.

Lieutenant John H. Strothers, a teacher in the New Castle high school and a reserve officer, left for Fort Washington this morning. Lieut. Strothers will be an instructor in military science and tactics at the camp this summer.

Fred Blaha of Winter avenue, has been appointed official publicity man for the Lawrence county contingent while they are at camp, and through The News, he will write of their activities.

Motor Chief Pomella Met Death By Fall Of Ice After Italia Crashed

(International News Service)

KINGS BAY, June 28.—Vincent Pomella, motor chief of the Nobile dirigible Italia was killed by a fall of ice from the envelope which crushed part of the cabin, it was revealed today in wireless advices from Virgo Bay where the Citi De Milano is anchored with General Umberto Nobile on board. Pomella was rendered unconscious and died a few hours later without regaining his senses. His grave near the Italia is marked by a rude crest fashioned by the ice.

From his sick bed, General Nobile is sending daily messages of hope and encouragement by wireless to the men left behind upon the floe.

On the day after the Italia crashed in gale on May 25 Professor Fenn Malgren, one of the scientists attached to the expedition succeeded in trapping and killing a polar bear which furnished meat for the party for some days. They had daily rations of water from melted ice mixed with a few drops of alcohol from the compasses of the Italia. They were able to give up this 'synthetic drink" after the first relief plane flew over the ice and dropped supplies which included six bottles of whiskey.

Believe Smith Will Be Named On First Ballot

All Indications Are That Senator Robinson Will Be Runningmate

SENATOR REED TO BATTLE TO LAST

Convention Still To Hear More Nominations Before Balloting Starts

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28. —The Al Smith bandwagon with its Joe Robinson trailer, creaked comfortably along today and seemingly nothing could stop it.

The nomination of the New York governor on the first ballot was conceded by his opponents and the selection of Senator Robinson as his running mate was regarded today in practically the same category of political certainties.

Much Oratory Looms.

Only an undetermined amount of oratory stood between the ticket makers and the accomplishment of their work. This oratory was in two parts —platform and candidatorial.

While the platform builders wrestled throughout the night in an effort to draft a prohibition plank that would be acceptable to both the wets and the drys, the convention planned to go ahead today with the formalities of the occasion. These formalities included the placing of half a dozen more names for the presidency before the convention—just as though the count of noses had not already shown that "Al is in".

To Present Reed.

When the convention recessed near midnight the roll call for candidates had only proceeded as far as Louisiana. The states below "L" have a have dozen candidates to present, among them Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri and Congressman Cordell Hull of Tennessee, the nearest rivals to the New York governor. There was nobody in Houston today who believed that either, or that any of the others, had a ghost of a show for the nomination, but the Democrats are gluttons for oratory and hence the formalities will be observed.

Ready to Switch.

Ohio and Kansas probably will go for Smith on the first ballot. Both were ready to switch their votes at the conclusion of the first roll call if the Smith managers need them. Ohio has 48 votes of which 42 or 44 have always been for Smith after the first ballot. Kansas has 20 votes that have been similarly committed. These, with the approximately 700 assured Smith votes on the first ballot, are more than sufficient.

This is Smith's convention. The fact was strikingly demonstrated last night by innumerable incidents. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy in the Wilson administration, called the delegates' attention to the fact

NEW INDUSTRY WILL START HERE IN JULY

East New Castle Plant Is Remodelled; To Manufacture Batteries

Machinery Is Being Installed Preparatory To Starting Manufacture

Within the next three weeks, perhaps by the middle of July, New Castle's newest industry, a battery manufacturing plant, will be getting into production, according to E. D. Hawk, owner and proprietor of the new plant.

In the past six weeks the old Slagstone Products company, east of Cascade Park, has been remodelled to suit the needs of a battery plant, punch presses and tanks are being installed and actual work of manufacturing will soon be under way.

To Make Heavy Duty Batteries

Mr. Hawk who was connected with the Westinghouse company for a number of years came to New Castle from Mansfield, O. The old Clagstone building suited his needs so admirably that he immediately began work of remodelling.

For a time at least, Mr. Hawk expects to specialize on heavy duty batteries for trucks, busses and the like. Later it is possible that he will enter the smaller battery field.

Just how many men will be needed to start the plant is not certain yet, but at the present time no hiring is being done. Mr. Hawk preferring to select his men slowly, picking each for certain specific purposes.

If present plans materialize it is possible that 100 men and women will be employed there when the plant gets to capacity production.

NOTABLES COMING TO AID CEREMONIES

Saturday, June 30, will be an epochal day at Plant Number Three of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Portland Cement Association Safety Trophy, which was won by the local plant for a non-accident year in 1927, will be formally dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

W. H. Kleckner, superintendent of the plant has had a committee working out the plans for the day, consisting of Charles H. Schlicher, chairman and Wes Davy and J. W. Miller. Orchestral music will be provided for the dedication Saturday, and refreshments will be served. The affair is open to the public.

TWENTY TWO ARE KILLED IN LONDON TRAIN WRECK

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 28.—Twenty-two persons were killed early today when a heavily crowded excursion train and a freight train collided just outside of the Darlington station.

Six of the victims were killed instantly. The others died in various hospitals shortly after the crash. Many of the victims were badly mangled.

Many Women and Children

Many of the excursionists were women and children.

The crash occurred at about midnight. The excursion train was carrying about five hundred merry-makers from Scarborough to Newcastle.

Seventy-five injured persons were in hospitals today, some are so seriously hurt that it is feared they may die. Rescue workers chopped furiously at the wreckage all through the early hours of the morning searching for the victims, but they were hampered by the darkness, it is feared there may be many more dead and injured in the wreckage.

The majority of the victims were women. The front coaches of the excursion train were telescoped when they met the freight train head-on.

Make Arrest For Murphy Slaying

Police Book Suspect Under Formal Charge Of Murder Today

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 28.—Gangland's favorite method of "springing" criminals from the tentacles of the law failed here today when John Hand, identified as a "racketeer" and minor labor union worker, was formally booked for the murder of "Big Tim" Murphy, slain by machine gun slugs late Tuesday.

While lawyers frantically prepared to obtain writs of habeas corpus for Hand, police quickly booked him for the slaying, at the same time extending their dragnets for three other men. Four men riding in a closed automobile operated the machine and shot guns that ended the colorful career of Murphy, termed the "man with a thousand rackets."

It looks like summer I must admit, its fair today and its warmed a bit, the sky is blue and the air is fine and the weather has crawled up to eighty nine, it looks like summer. It looks like summer as I have said, and along the hedge fence there's spots of red, where the berries are hidden among the grass, and one might miss them as he would pass; the larks were out as I passed along, and the robin attempted a throaty song, and every note that he trilled at me, contained a message which seemed to be, it looks like summer. It looks like summer, and here's a sign, there's a wigwagging going along the line, two fingers are held by some freckled kid and he's off to do what I one time did, he's going swimming, the lucky lad, and I think of the same kind of times I've had, and all around if you'll only see, there's a message from birdlife and hedge and tree, it looks like summer.

Gangsters And Gunmen To Go, Chicago Edict

By FRANCIS F. HEALY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 28.—"Gambling must go. Gangsters and gunmen must leave Chicago. Disorder must and will cease. District police commanders will be held strictly responsible for condition in their territory and if crime is not reduced they, too, will go."

This was the edict uttered by Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes of Chicago upon his return from a vacation trip. At the same time he denied persistent rumors he was slated to be replaced as chief of police.

"I am going to call a meeting of all deputy commissioners and at that meeting I am going to repeat, for the last time, that professional gambling must go," Hughes said.

Picked Up On Sight

"The same goes for gangsters and gunmen. They are to be picked up on sight, held for investigation, and convinced that Chicago is no place for them. I don't care where they go as long as they get out of this city."

Hughes said the crime situation in Chicago is better, per thousand of population, than in a majority of other cities. He again cited that Chicago has been given a "black eye" by gossip in other cities.

"Our statistics are on file with the Chicago Crime Commisison and they are available, too. Stories that we suppress actual crime conditions in the police reports are untrue. We do hold back, pending investigation, some reports of robberies that look ficticious.

"Faked" Robberies

"Many of these robberies turn out false by confession of the complaining witsness woh "faked" the theft to account for money they used for wrong purposes.

"But there is no excuse for slot machines and other devices of that nature.

The same applies to vice and open booze joints.

"They are going—all of them.

"Chicago will be one of the cleanest places in the world when I am through with it."

Man, 75, Works 11 Hours Daily To Pay Moral Obligation

NEW YORK, June 28.—High up in a Broadway office a 75-year-old man is working 11 hours a day to make $2,000,000 so he can give it away again.

Leopold Zimmerman has dedicated the rest of his life to discharging a moral obligation. In 1923 the brokerage firm of Zimmerman & Forshay, which traded in German marks, failed for $7,000,000.

Edwin F. Forshay was dead. Zimmerman poured his personal fortune of $4,000,000 into the pockets of the creditors, who received 65 cents on the dollar. Courts ruled that his legal obligation was ended; that he was free to rebuild his business.

But Zimmerman wasn't satisfied. He wanted to pay 100 cents on the dollar. He moved into a cheaper home and gave up the luxuries to which he had grown accustomed.

Today he sits at his desk with a long list of creditors in front of him. Every week he sends out a check and strikes off one name from the list. Last year he paid out $200,000. All he asks is 19 more years of life, for it will take that long to refund the $2,000,000.

Zimmerman, who came from Germany, started life on a shoestring—or rather on several shoestrings—for he peddled them through the Bowery for two years before he got enough money to start a brokerage firm.

Student Wins Prize For Chemistry Essay Without Any Lessons

AUSTIN, Texas, June 28—Although he had never studied a single lesson in college or high school chemistry, practical knowledge gleaned from his other studies has won for Carl W. Evans, of San Antonio, a freshman in the College Engineering of the University of Texas, a prize of $300 for an essay which he wrote and submitted to the American Chemical society.

Evans took as his general theme the relation of chemistry to the development of an industry or resource of the United States. He submitted the essay without the knowledge of the chemistry department faculty.

As not quite 500 copies have been received by the local chamber, James W. Cole, the secretary, urges all who want the maps to call at the chamber as early as possible, so that they can get one before the supply is exhausted.

A map of the world of books, showing the location of all of the most famous children's stories, has been received by the children's department of the New Castle public library. BELIEVE SMITH WILL BE NAMED ON FIRST BALLOT that this was the first convention in more than a quarter of a century wherein the bell-like voice and dominant influence of William Jennings Bryan have been missing. They hardly paid any attention to him. The Tammany tiger is in the ascendancy and it is his time to growl.

Big Demonstration.

A short time later, when Franklin D. Roosevelt put the name of Governor Smith formally before the convention, they figuratively tore the roof off Sam Houston's big hall. Four years ago at Madison Square Garden it was a different story.

The name of Sen. Walter F. George, Georgia's favorite son, was the first to go before the convention. The reception it got was mild. The standards of Georgia, Florida, North Carolina and Alabama joined in the George procession, but the rest stood pat. Even three bands playing "Dixie" with their hearts in it couldn't draw the rest in.

The Georgians insisted that Tennessee come into the demonstration, but a bulky Tennessee delegate shouted to those who were trying to seize the state standard: "You are too dry."

California led the Smith procession when Roosevelt presented the governor's name. Maryland was only a second behind.

Twelve- state standards, however, were kept out of the mad Smith parade through the aisles, although delegates from each of the missing states were participants. The southern states, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Texas and South Carolina held fast to their standards and the favorite son states of Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri stayed out for obvious reasons.

Some Battles.

At that, the night didn't pass without a fight. There is Smith sentiment in all of the southern delegations to a greater or less degree, and when "Mike" Morrison, a Missouri alternate, grabbed up the Mississippi standard on the parade there was a scuffle over it. Sen. Hubert Stephens, a cripple, who was guardian of the standard, used his cane in the melee before the police finally escorted Morrison from the hall.

Names of four candidates were formally presented to the convention before a halt was called on the wearisome round of oratory—George Smith, Ayres and Woollen. Several of the seconding speeches also were shot in at the night session. Seconding speech for Smith were made by Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming, Thomas J. Hickey of California, Senator Barkley of Kentucky and Mrs. Emma Guffy Miller of Pennsylvania. More were to follow at today's session.

The leaders planned to get all the nominating and seconding speeches out of the way today and they were hopeful of getting the platform late this afternoon or tonight. If their hopes are fulfilled, it means the end of the convention Friday.

It's an ill wind that blows no good. If radio worked perfectly all the time who would plant our crops?

the convention in person before it adjourns. The idea originated with the Illinois delegation and was said to have been fathered by George E. Brennan, Democratic czar in the "Prairie" state. It met with immediate endorsement for the Smith leaders.

"Senator Reed is not a quitter," one of his closest friends told International News Service, in touching on Reed's planned appearance before the convention. He will remain in the presidential race until the last ballot is counted. He is a Democrat, however, heart and soul. He places the success of the Democratic party above any personal ambition. He would far sooner see the Democratic party victorious this year than to win the Democratic presidential nomination for himself.

Reed No Quitter.

"Therefore, Jim Reed, following a lifetime loyalty to the best interests of his party, will pledge his wholehearted support and vigorous cooperation in the coming campaign to whoever is named as the party's nominee. He will take the stump as only Jim Reed can to support the Democratic nominee. It is his firm belief that only through the election of a Democratic president and a Democratic congress can the United States be kept out of entangling alliances with foreign nations. He believes the election of Herbert Hoover as president would mean the initiation of a series of entangling alliances and so he will stand with Jefferson and Washington in fighting such machinations to their destruction. Jim Reed will support Al Smith if the governor of New York is nominated, with all the powers at his command and with as much enthusiasm as if he were conducting a campaign for himself."

Reed To Speak.

Reed was reported to have agreed to appear before the convention to make a second "keynote" speech. It was Reed's idea, according to his closest friends, to plead with the convention for harmony. He planned, it was said, a specific plea for repudiation for all of the third party movements no matter who is declared the Democratic nominee.

The Missourian, who initiated the senate's famous slush fund investigations that kept two men out of the senate, has expressed a desire, according to his friends, to sound a new tocsin to the Democratic party to concentrate on the campaign issue of Republican corruption. This was the plea he made when he stamped the Democratic party's Jackson Day dinner at Washington last January.

Reed's decision to support Smith or any other Democratic nominee to the best of his ability—which means an unbroken speaking tour of the country from the day the campaign opens until the ballots are counted—was due chiefly to his opposition to Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee. In his speech to the convention, as now planned, Reed will launch a new attack on Hoover and it has been intimated, will make such charges against the Republican nominee as to throw a brand new issue into the November campaign.

The Missourian, it was said, has planned to state his views on prohibition to the convention. Reed will declare that prohibition is not an issue in the approaching campaign and call upon the Democratic party to pledge itself to "rigid enforcement" of all existing laws, including the Volstead act.

drafting committee of 14 members was peaceful and harmonious.

"It was the most pleasant and harmonious meeting of the kind I've ever attended," said Pittman. "They are the finest bunch of fellows I've ever sat down with. There were no fights, nor harsh words—we merely dealt throughout the night with language and phraseology."

He expressed himself as satisfied with the prohibition and farm planks.

"It is one of the best platforms I've ever seen," he added. "It is not half as long as the Republican platform adopted at Kansas City."

Harmony Seekers Win

The prohibition plank was the last approved by the committee. At the outset three different prohibition proposals were submitted: (1) repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and modification of the Volstead laws by the wets; (2) a bone dry plank, by Gov. Dan Moody of Texas, and (3) a law enforcement plank, by the harmony seekers.

This last program had been agreed upon by the Smith forces in an effort to reach a compromise.

Governor Moody held until the end for the bone dry prohibition and even when the committee recessed he had not fallen into line on the plank adopted, it was declared.

Slowly, however, the other militant drys on the committee, such as Senators Glass of Virginia and Caraway of Arkansas swung over to the law enforcement idea, and thus a slambang fight was avoided.

The wets made a gesture for the dripping plank but did not press it hard.

Senator Wagner of New York, Gov. Al Smith's spokesman on the committee, said the platform was satisfactory.

"I am satisfied with the whole platform," he stated. "Personally, I am a wet and I had such a plank which I voted for, but the one adopted does not go beyond law enforcement so I am satisfied."

Similar expressions came from other wets and drys alike.

The preamble to the prohibition plank, on which there was no disagreement, sharply criticizes the Republicans for not properly enforcing the 18th amendment and blames them for the breakdown of the honest enforcement.

As he emerged sleepy-eyed from the hearing room Pittman was asked whether a minority report of any kind would be carried to the full committee and then to the floor.

"I'm not sure," he replied, and then he added: "Oh, no, I don't think so, for we are pretty generally agreed. If I were betting, I'd bet against a minority report. Governor Moody is studying the plank very carefully."

Senator Walsh, a wet, said the enforcement plank "was the best obtainable under the circumstances in view of the wide diversion of opinion among the members of the committee".

A corruption plank, described as an attack on the Republican party for the oil, election and other scandals of the past eight years, was one of the features of the platform.

A plank, proposed by Walsh, attacked big monopolies and trusts.

All planks were approved by the sub-committee except that dealing with labor. Officials of labor organizations were called to meet with the committee at nine o'clock to present their views, after which the labor plank will be drafted.

The platform must be approved by the entire committee before it is submitted to the convention. Pittman hopes to have the platform ready for the convention early this afternoon or certainly by tonight.

German Predicts Food From Wood

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 28.—Man has not evolved from the animal. On the contrary, he evolves toward the animal the older he gets.

This revolutionary theory, completely reversing Darwinian doctrine, is propounded by Professor Schindewolf, who explained his views before the German Society for Prehistoric Research recently.

He finds that man cannot have descended from the animal because the specifically human characteristics have no counterpart in the animal world.

More than that, he finds that the early development of the individual, through the embryo, does not repeat the supposed ancestral animal forms, as was assumed hitherto.

Quite to the contrary, says Professor Schindewolf.

Baby Gorilla Is Growing Healthy

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 28. — Bamboo, America's only captive Gorilla, has been growing fat and husky while Lizzie, a young chimpanzee brought to the Philadelphia zoo to be a playmate for the Bamboo, has grown to think himself "quite a man," according to Emerson Brown, superintendent of the zoo.

Brown has persinally raised the baby gorilla.

With much difficulty the little gorilla was brought to the zoo at the age of 11 months. Brown said that the animal is still a baby and needs plenty of attention.

Gaining a pound a month is good progress for the Bamboo has a diet of bananas, buttermilk and zweibach, which helps him feel strong and husky.

The attendant said he pounds his chest whenever he gets a crowd outside his cage and pleads for something to eat.

The baby gorilla has not been sick since arrival here except for a slight cold.

Lizzie, the bamboo's playmate came to Philadelphia with him, and both have spent many hours together, exercising and showing off to the crowds around his cage.

Renew Search For Amundsen

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 28.—With slightly better weather in prospect today rescue expeditions prepared to continue their search for Capt. Roald Amundsen, Major Rene Guilbaud and the others in their party, who have not been heard from since leaving Tromsoe, Norway, about ten days ago.

At the same time plans were being formulated to scour the region where General Umberto Nobile stated he saw the gas bag of the Italia go down, apparently in flames, with six men aboard.

A sharp lookout will be kept for any trace of the three members of the Nobile party who set out across the ice afoot to find aid for their marooned commander and disappeared.

Four of Nobile's party are still isolated on the ice floes north of Spitzbergen and with them is the Swedish flier Lundborg, who wrecked his plane on the ice after rescuing Nobile and another of the Italia's crew.

Light planes equipped with skiis and capable of landing on moving blocks of ice will be utilized in the attempts to be made to bring these men back to civilization as soon as the weather permits.

cans at Houston are not specific and that they are "really a compliment". The fierce assaults of Claude Bowers, keynoter, and Senator Robinson, convention chairman, against the administration were general in nature, according to Mellon's view, and will not be regarded seriously by the rank and file of voters.

No Mud-Throwing

Mellon is understood to agree with the plans of Secretary Hoover for a short-snappy campaign, with emphasis on economy of expenditures and avoidance of "mud-throwing" tactics.

This is the first time Mellon has been so specific as to his political predictions and the remarks were hailed with extreme satisfaction by the Hoover camp.

Meanwhile Hoover was conferring with J. R. Nutt of Cleveland, the new Republican treasurer, relative to financial details of the campaign, and winding up his Commerce Department affairs preparatory to resigning.

Hoover may deliver his resignation to President Coolidge on his way to California about the middle of next month. With Chairman Hubert Work also to resign, the President will have two cabinet posts to fill. The appointees probably will be suggested by the new Republican regime.

Income tax collections during June will amount to approximately the $75,000,000 figure of last June and for the year will be well over the $2,000,000,000 mark.

Mellon charactered government finances as in "excellent condition" as the new year is about to start.

THE GREAT HEART OF A CITY

VOLUNTARY gifts of money amounting to more than $20,000 have been made to provide a home for the widow and five little children of a Kansas City police officer, victim of gunmen after a bank robbery.

The money is pouring in daily, no one knows what the total figure will be. In addition real estate men have offered a lot without cost, material men have made gifts of material and price reductions on all that goes into the home, labor organizations have offered their services and skill without cost;from all ranks of citizenship have come offers to help.

Apparently in this display of the great heart of a city the people there want to make the lot and each piece of material in the building redolent with the fragrance of that neighborly friendship that marks American life. The Kansas City Times speaks of it as an instance showing the survival of the traditions of the frontier, when all people held together because each needed the other, when there were fine neighborly relations in all communities. All frontiers had that same demonstration, but in the wide, open spaces of the West, when it was new, traditional friendship had a greater illustration than in some other places.

Cities are better after an experience that touches hearts and turns loose the fine sentiments of men and women opines the Ohio State Journal. It is well worth the time and money it costs to turn away from financial and commercial activities occasionally and let human problems have first place. The wonderful friendship shown the widow and orphans of the slain policeman thrills the hearts of every other member of the force. It is a picture that will live in the history of the city. That home, when completed, will be a monument to the great heart of a big, prosperous city, proving that human appreciation survives and takes first place when occasion arises. It is a wonderful testimonial to any large city when its people prove themselves neighbors in the hour of distress and givers in the hour of need.

A CAMPAIGN INNOVATION

PRESIDENT HARDING invented the front porch campaign. His successor, President Coolidge, was the first to campaign by radio. Senator Reed, of Missouri, originated the circus-tent campaign. There is still another campaign innovation in store for the American people during the present presidential campaign.

Herbert Hoover is considering seriously, with the approval of his advisers, an office-chair campaign. His plan is to remain at his post in the Coolidge cabinet during the campaign and, if elected, until inauguration day next March. In several ways it is a proposed course which stimulates thought and compels admiration.

Were Secretary Hoover elected after such a novel campaign he would have the satisfaction of knowing that he had been elected by the people, not had himself elected. While his party may not permit it, Secretary Hoover has expressed the desire to sit tight in devotion to his present work and wait for the election to come to him rather than go out and fight for it.

It is an idea worth experimenting with. A successful campaign conducted in this manner would prove that speaking tours and campaign managers and their manipulations are ineffectual and expensive buncombe.

Secretary Hoover will find, within his own party, opposition to his scheme. Organization politicians find it desirable and profitable that the successful candidate enter office conscious that he owes his good fortune to them and to their work rather than to his popularity. Campaign tours are useful because they fill the railroad platforms and auditoriums with people, which is the political bosses "evidence" that he is producing. The truth is the crowds would be there if there were no bosses.

LOWER POSTAGE RATES TO TAKE EFFECT

THE reduced postal rates provided in the bill of Representative Griest of Lancaster will go into effect Sunday.

The legislation aims to correct unpopular features of the act of 1925. A similar effort in 1926 came to naught after the measure had passed both houses of congress only to have the conference report fail in the legislative jam of March, 1927.

The new schedule is estimated to effect a reduction of $16,285,000 in revenue.

Whether lower rates will stimulate business enough to offset this loss remains to be seen. Usually the forecasts prove largely hypothetical. Too many factors enter the computation to make advance announcements trustworthy. Service also must sometimes be considered before profits.

The return to the one-cent stamp on souvenir postal cards, for instance, may rebuild a trade which is said to have been hit by the two-cent stamp requirement. The vogue for these cards began in the last century and has expanded into a remarkable industry. Far from sharing the fate of a passing fad, it receives new impetus with the increase in popular travel.

Raising the postal rate on the cards evidently caused resentment to react in a way that sacrificed the expected increment in revenue.

Hate is the sincerest form of flattery. It is nine parts envy, always.

Experts who have been working on the matter, have decided in their councils that this country can get along very well without a bread trust.

Few great reformers were married men. Kicking the world's shins is the peculiar privilege of those who have no children's shoes to buy.

So far we have never heard of a wet Democrat being elected to an office. Being dry seems to be a great asset to any Democrat wanting to be elected. Maybe it's because there are so few dry Dems.

THE GOSSIP.

Hidden behind the lace curtain,
Vigilantly she sits;
She uses her sharp wits
To make her dark thoughts certain.

She watches doors across the way,
Sees who goes in and out;
She is the scandal-scout
Scenting her unsuspecting prey.

Before her evil, prying eyes,
Innocence becomes sin;
Slyly she will begin
To stab a good name with her lies.

Her black heart shall not go unsung—
Pass by with a shiver
When her curtains quiver;
She kills with a thrust of her tongue!

Rebels in Mexico wrecked a passenger train running out of Laredo to Mexico City. The fireman and engineer were killed and several passengers injured. Laredo is where they allow bull fights and we can testify that those bull fights are bad. A little thing like wrecking a train seems like child's play for some of the bad lookers who attended the bull fight we saw. This gives a pretty good idea of Mexico at that.

Most people don't sing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" as often as they used to, prohibition having made the compliment more sincere and discriminating.

WEST'S FIRST PRESIDENT

No President of the United States has lived at the time of his election or has been buried west of the Mississippi. Nor, so far, have we known a President who was born on that side of the great river. Only one President that died there—Harding. Some day it is going to be quite the other way. Doubtless the West's first President already is living, but doesn't know he is the man any more than we know it.

Most all the Democratic delegates from Pennsylvania were scared stiff in the caucus at Houston and never gave a peep against Gov. Smith. Maybe they were for him at heart—whatever they may be in politics.

Hardly anyone cries at a wedding where both parties have been married before. There don't seem to be any reason for being sorry for that kind of birds.

We have had a great stunt for some years to get early green onions. Every fall we get half a bushel of onions from "Jim" Mayberry, who has an onion farm over in Ohio. We always tell him we want some small ones in the lot and instead of stewing them we keep 'em and plant 'em early in the spring and you never saw such wonderful green eating onions in your life as we get. No one can even tell we have eaten them. Some onions.

A woman always knows when a man is lying, except when he says he loves her.

As a flattener of political foes, Mr. Smith, governor of New York, has the steam roller rolled off the road. He don't even have to be on the convention ground to squash 'em. The Democrats seem to be afraid of duplicating their crazy stunt of four years ago—and we don't blame them.

There won't be any party splits if the parties can straddle as the candidates.

Airplanes are now being quoted F. O. B., which sounds suspiciously like fly or bust.

The Hints and Dints Man has been requested to print the original song entitled "The Sidewalks of New York". We do not know where to get a copy of it and will appreciate the favor if one is sent in to this office. Some Democratic brother evidently wants to spread it.

What we would like to know is how some gents can get out of going to weddings with their wives.

Even if you do start life as a baby, you should try to grow out of it.

Every time we attend a wedding we are more and more convinced that a man knows nothing about a wedding. It is a woman's game. No woman ever makes a false move at a wedding, but we have never seen a man connected with a wedding in any way who did not make mistakes that all women could see.

OUR COFFEE AND TEA COWS

There are 3,000,000 coffee cows and 750,000 tea cows in the United States, if the United States Department of Agriculture has not made a mistake in the count. By gross estimate Uncle Sam's folks consume 40,000,000,000 cups of coffee in a year, requiring 1,000,000,000 pounds of coffee and 40,000,000,000 ounces of cream—an equivalent of 12,500,000,000 pounds of milk, or one-eighth of the total production of the country. Uncle Sam's folk also drink 21,000,000,000 cups of tea a year, requiring 85,000,000 pounds of tea and 10,500,000,000 ounces of cream. Into all this coffee and tea and cream is dumped 800,000,000 pounds of sugar a year, or one-tenth of all the sugar consumed in the United States. That seems hard to believe unless you see, as you sometimes do in restaurants, a man grab a sugar shaker and fill his coffee cup with sugar.

Man has the advantage of woman, because he can grow old without considering it a crime.

A six-weeks' course for prospective bridegrooms is given at the Y. M. C. A. in a northern city. The course takes the form of lectures covering all aspects of married life. Among the subjects discussed, as I picture it, are:

Easy breakfasts for a man to get.
Skill in the use of can openers.
Practice in listening without answering back.
Practice in handing over the pay envelope, etc., etc.

The Democrats claim the Republicans have failed to enforce the 18th amendment. The Democratic platform will consist entirely of abuse of the Republican party. Who started this 18th amendment? Was it the Republicans? If the amendment is never enforced until the Democrats enforce it it will be repealed—or something. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is at Houston and she is for Governor Smith.

It Will Not Be Long.
John D. Was Quiet.
Bootleg Courtsy.
Hard Work Gets It.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

When this was written, Tuesday, wise men in Houston expected Gov. Smith to be nominated by acclamation and much enthusiasm on the first ballot, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas to be nominated, also on one ballot, for vice president.

Ludwig, the eminent German writer, spent an afternoon with John D. Rockefeller, and will tell the world about him. Mr. Rockefeller said to him: "Look, I have done everything I have done by being quiet. When I was young I only needed to put the right people in the right job."

That's the biggest problem, to find the right people and put them in the right job.

Industrialists say there are not enough men for the big positions. That is true. Also, there are not enough big industrialists that know the right man for the big position when they see him. The man is usually right under their noses.

In the South everything is courtesy. Bootleggers at Houston apologized through a local newspaper, expressing regret at being compelled to raise prices. They had no idea how thirsty the crowd would be, and found themselves on Monday with only 3,000 cases, 36,000 bottles of whisky and only casual assistance from local stills. Under the circumstances they were obliged to raise prices. "Laws of supply and demand," they said.

It seems unnecessary for Democrats to demand an end of prohibition.

"Hard work gets it. There is no royal road to success." That was Gov. Al Smith's message to the graduating class of the parochial high school of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, of which his 18-year-old boy is president.

The advice that Gov. Smith gave the boys is needed by many would-be "get-rich-quick" moderns, old and young.

Gov. Smith advised the boys to benefit by their education and appreciate an advantage that he never had.

He told them that when other men talked about their college degrees, B. A., Ph. D., etc., he told them his letters were F. F. M., standing for "Fulton Fish Market," where he worked as a lad.

Gov. Smith's early experiences in hard work will enable him to appeal to many men in his campaign that would not be reached by a "Ph. D."

"Call money," the kind used for stock gambling, cost seven per cent Tuesday. Somebody wants to discourage gambling foolishness. But even seven per cent money and calling $30,000,000 by the banks did not discourage Wall street. Stock sales have dropped to "only" something over 1,000,000 shares. But prices hold and rise.

If you own a stock exchange seat don't be in a hurry to sell it. You will see many five-million shares days.

A girl 25 years old narrowly escaped death when two men threw her from a swiftly moving automobile. She told police the men threw her out when she "resented their remarks".

Other young women should profit by the warning: "Not to accept invitations from unknown gentlemen".

The Democratic platform is expected to ignore the League of Nations absolutely. That's as wise as it would be to ignore Tut-Ankh-Amen—both are dead.

Besides, on one occasion, when Democrats took the League to their bosoms and Republicans wisely went the other way, the result was 7,000,000 plurality against the League.

That should convince the Democratic platform writers. There is no accident about 7,000,000 plurality.

In the jungle wild animals take their own photographs, but don't know what a flashlight means. Patroimen placed a camera in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church near the poor box, arranged so that Charles Calian, when he stole $12.83 from the box, took his own photograph, rang a bell that brought the police and generally caused his undoing. After seeing the photograph he confessed.

THE VALUE OF DEATH

Why death?

Why can't people go along living all the time?

Why must everybody possess the certainty of giving up the ghost sooner or later?

There must be some reason for this eternal tragedy that stands in the background of every one of us.

Whoever made this universe and this race of men and women would not have created them with the fact of death hanging over them had there not been some good reason for it.

I am not in the secrets of the All Wise and don't pretend to know more than other people, but I have a sort of hunch that death is valuable because of the viewpoint it brings to life.

If a man always felt well, never was sick, he would get too cocky. There would be no curbing his egotism. The vanity of humankind is wonderful and death exists as a certain cure.

A woman sent me a letter. It was a letter written by a mother, just a few days before she died, to her daughter. This letter was found in an old trunk. A part of the letter reads as follows:

"My Heart's Beloved:

As I start on this journey I am faced with the obsession that I have not always been a good mother to you. From my own trials, disappointments and experiences, I have shadowed your life and colored your impressions, and in a great measure destroyed your ideals. You saw all my little weaknesses and railings, deceits and untruthfulness and, of course, that was bound to influence your character. But won't you let me atone for that by your reshaping your life to better efforts? Cast out doubt. Love—the love that sees only good in everything, is all that makes life sweet."

There was more to the letter and much in the same strain.

This letter is valuable as it shows us how different things look to us when we come to die.

If we all knew we were to die tonight there are a lot of things we wouldn't do and there are a lot of things that are worth while that we would do.

Perhaps we get our truest view of those things which are worth while in life when we look at them from the standpoint of death. So that the fact of death constantly in the world tends to ennoble life and any career of unlimited prosperity and health would tend to discredit it.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WESTERN MAN AND ARTIST.

Supposing you want to know the best route, if any, from Omigosh, California, to Hevenhelpus, Oregon. By ordinary procedure you call an Automobile Club. But now—just to suppose again—suppose the Club doesn't know! Then, if you are really on the inside, you would turn to Alhambra, California, in the telephone book and call Jack Wilkinson Smith, artist.

Smith ought to know. Since 1912, he has traveled practically every road, cart-track, trail and cowpath on the Pacific Slope in everything from boots to a specially built speed-wagon that looks like an army officer's car. Built-in beds, disappearing stove, folding dishes, and one's dinner clothes nicely pressed in rear trunk. Tonight, steak under the stars; tomorrow dinner at Del Monte.

Of course, this dinner coat thing wasn't so simple in the early days. Once it took him two days in a dogged Ford to go sixteen miles in the Olympics. Today you can whiz over that stretch in twenty minutes on the fine paved road from Gray's Harbor to Lake Quinault. He also reminds us that Roosevelt Highway now goes through Eureka and Crescent City to Gold Beach and will soon be paved to Coos Bay.

However, a painter has to do something besides travel. In Smith's case all this traveling has had a definite purpose, to explore and record the scenic beauties of the coast States, and particularly, of California. While he is perhaps better known among Californians for the many paintings of sea, rocks and surf, done at Laguna, and his sturdy High Sierra pictures that hang in so many homes and clubs of the Southland, he has been able to attend an art, essentially based on respect for Nature, to the subtle diffused light of the Del Norte Coast or the deep tonalities of the mountains of Washington.

With his friends, Frank Tenney Johnson, the painter, of Western life, and Clyde Forsythe, who worships the effects of light and shadows on towering San Jacinto, but who is better known to thousands as "Vic," creator of the comic strip "Joe's Car," Jack Smith has made many a trip into the Sierras; indeed, he and Edgar Alwin Payne set the fashion for the current interest in pictures of the great California mountains.

When this artist arises after dinner he does not vaporize about Art with a capital A. Instead he says: "Art is important, but Life is much more so. Be a man first and then do your best with art." So it is not surprising to learn that he was chiefly responsible for the founding of the Biltmore Salon, a non-profit organization to exhibit and sell the works of recognized Western artists; that, without becoming the business man, he was able to interest himself in making the establishment a success. Then he was able to go back from life to art with renewed enthusiasm, and the last few years have seen some of his best work as a painter.

"Arty" artists say, "Jack Smith? He's a business man!" But so was the great Albrecht Durer, so was Anders Zorn; and few of them knew the Jack Smith who writes verse and conceals it, and perhaps few of them have peered quietly into some of those silvery little pictures of canyons with pools, where observation and poetry combine in an art that is beautiful and personal.

A REAL VACATION—

Never leaves a man less fitted for his work.
Is sometimes nothing more than a change of work.
Should contribute as much to a man's morale as to his health.
Is not a question of money but a state of mind.
Never leaves a man grouchy, bitter, or suspicious.
Is a worker's chance to take his soul on an airing.
Is one of God's favorite ideas or He would never have made Sunday.

C. B. D. CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

IN DEFENSE OF MILLIONAIRES

Some minister of the gospel was widely quoted recently to the general effect that our American millionaires are sadly under-cultured and vulgar. The noted divine was credited with saying that our millionaires give away millions of dollars to colleges and libraries and schools as a sort of compensation to themselves for their own lack of culture. The general impression given by this speaker was that American millionaires make fools of themselves by giving so much money to institutions of learning, thereby letting out of the bag a cat that meows out loud concerning the rich men's lack of learning.

I know exactly what the minister is driving at, and I wholly disagree with him.

[illegible] some of the richest and best equipped colleges and art galleries and laboratories in the world, because certain American rich men have been imbued with a desire to give to future generations of Americans advantages of education and culture that these men have not themselves enjoyed. Is there anything discreditable in that? Quite the contrary, I should think.

Is it any discredit to the immigrant father that he will deny himself the comfortable things of life in order that his sons and daughters may have college educations and better chances in the world than he had?

Is is any disgrace to the mother in moderate circumstances that she will deny herself social life and save money to put her children through school?

Well then, now may we, without accounting ourselves immoderate snobs, criticize our wealthy men for providing the means whereby the sons and daughters of thousands of Americans may attain to learning that these wealthy men themselves had to get along without?

Most of the millionaires who have become prominent in American life rose from poverty. These are the ones who have given most to educational institutions. John D. Rockefeller had to struggle along without Latin or Greek or higher mathematics, but he has made it possible for thousands of young men and women whom he has never seen to equip their minds with some of the instruments of higher life. I'm mighty certain that I, for one, will never find it in my heart to criticize Rockefeller for that.

James B. Duke, the tobacco man, gave enough money to start on its way an institution of learning of which this country eventually will be very proud. Shall we jibe at Duke because he didn't know the rules of Chaldean syntax, or shall we revere the beneficent spirit in which he gave?

Let us not be snobbish with our millionaires, lest they run out on us and leave the Higher Learning flat!

New Castle Lady Restored To New Health And Vigor

Miseries Of Kidney Trouble And Sluggish Liver Ended By New Konjola Medicine.

MRS. ANNA SPANISH
Scavy Photo

Health is the greatest asset we can possess. Without it life is uninteresting and we never seem to attain the utmost happiness we all strive so hard to acquire. Many of us go on from year to year with that half-sick feeling that comes from a rundown and disordered inner-system; complaining of aches and pains and remarking about the tired, drowsy feeling that comes over us so often. Since the introduction of the new Konjola medicine, many thousands of people throughout the Central States and Middle West have voluntarily offered strong words of praise for Konjola and hundreds of men and women have given their signed statements to the Konjola Man at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, telling of the wonderful benefits they derived from this celebrated compound.

One of the latest to describe the new health received from Konjola is Mrs. Anna Spanish, Moore street, South New Castle Borough.

"I had been a sufferer for many years", said Mrs. Spanish, "first trying one thing and then another, before I ever knew there was a medicine like Konjola. But now since I have taken this compound it has ended all my troubles and restored new health to me.

"My whole system was badly rundown and most of my miseries were caused by a sluggish liver and disordered kidneys. These ailments gave me untold trouble and no matter what I took for relief, I continued to suffer. I think that these troubles were brought on by poisons and impurities in my blood. It never seemed to circulate in the proper manner and a peculiar numbness in my limbs was caused by this condition. Because of bladder trouble I had to rise several times every night and when I got up the next morning the first thing that I noticed would be a terrific pain in the small of my back that was almost unbearable. Finally I got so nervous most of the time and recently the least noise would upset me. There were pimples and skin eruptions on my face and body and in spite of everything that I did to correct this, they always came back.

"A friend of mine had been taking Konjola and has received amazing results from it. He advised me to give it a trial and so I started on the treatment. Before the first bottle was gone I began to feel better and I knew that this was the medicine for my case. My kidneys got stronger and now, I don't have to get up a single time during the night. Every ache and pain caused by them have been banished and I know that that ailment is permanently ended. Then Konjola regulated my liver and cleansed the poisons from my blood. Since Konjola did this the embarrassing skin eruptions have been cleared from my face and body. I have only taken four bottles of this medicine and yet, my health has improved one hundred percent. I am never nervous and my sleep is sound and refreshing.

"Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine and I want to say once more that I am only too glad to indorse it to others".

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

CREATING WANTS

Advertising is an amazing, creative work. By creating new wants and an ever-widening market it is doing more to raise the standard of living than any other force. Advertising creates intelligent dissastisfaction. It properly makes you discontented with what you have and then leads you to the place of satisfaction.

"We don't want our customers satisfied with our automobiles," said a member of a great manufacturing firm. "We want them to be dissatisfied, so they will buy another and a better car from us a little later."

THE "UPLIFT"

There are plenty and too many organizations for some sort of specific "uplift". What the world really wants is less organized uplift and more organized behavior.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association is a master experiment in applied idealism. It represents an unceasing effort to enlist boys and men—to enlist them in the everlasting effort to be somebody and to get somewhere by the route of education and physical excellence and normal training.

LUCK AND THE CHILD

This summer thousands of fathers and mothers are going to do some thinking about college and their boy and their girl. Don't trust to luck or muddle along by the route of indifference. Know your child and know the college he is thinking about—its size and its environment and what it especially stands for. Probably the small college will give him or her the best opportunity. But find out. Be as sure as you can.

CONSECUTIVE ABILITY

Much talk about executive ability and not so much about consecutive ability. Many folks—especially young ones—are good in spurts. They can do good work for a time, until the enthusiasm wears off, until the spirit flickers and droops. Matthew Arnold, eloquent British poet, said:

"Tasks through hours of insight willed
Can be through hours of gloom fulfilled."

Foundations are not laid and great structures built by spurts. They come brick by brick. Vast talent and marked executive ability are not enough. They won't get you far unless you have CONSECUTIVE ability—the capacity for delivering day after day, whether it's easy or hard.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TWO VIEWS OF OUR DINING ROOM

At evening time our dining room
With flowers of beauty seems to bloom.
I enter it and think how fair
Is every red-embroidered chair!
How brightly do the goblets shine!
How white the linen, and how fine!
And in that most delightful mood
I glory in the sight of food,
For when we've said our simple grace,
There gleams a smile on every face.

And now the food is carried in!
The maid is greeted by a din
Of welcome from the children small
Which grownups cannot check at all.
Here is a scene, say, right then
To stir the souls of doubting men
Who think all joy has left the earth.
Here is the very peak of mirth!
When hunger finds the dining room
Delight rifts every cloud of gloom.

But now the evening meal is done.
The room seems bleak to every one.
The table strangely seems to be
A ghastly thing from which we'd flee.
The goblets have a sickly glare,
And dull appears the tablewear.
The beauty of the room has paled,
The lure and charm of food have failed.
Stuffed full in there I cannot stay,
"Come! Let's get out of here," I say.

Plan Digging Up Prehistoric City Buried In West

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 28.—With plans for the excavation of an entire prehistoric city, a party of explorers under the leadership of Dr. Paul S. Martin, state archeologist, will leave Denver soon for a windswept plain near Cortez, Colorado, northwest of the Mesa Verde region.

Dr. Martin, who recently returned from a three months expedition in Yucatan, is enthusiastic about his new venture. He believes that the excavation of this city will reveal the story of a race that existed before the Mesa Verde cliff dwellers, and who were the origin of the American Indian race.

Outlines Seen.

From the surface of the ground where the work will be done, one can outline a huge kiva, measuring 80 feet in diameter. The kiva was a ceremonial temple surrounded with streets, houses and burying grounds. In the burying grounds, Dr. Martin hopes to find the most valuable treasures because of the custom the Indians had of burying many trinkets and articles significant of the age.

Because the city is located on a plain near the Mesa Verde region, Mr. Martin believes the inhabitants were attacked by savage Indians and were forced to retreat to the hills for protection. In the hills, they built the cliff dwelling which are now famous in American history.

To Trace Tribe.

If Dr. Martin fails to connect the history of the people of the newly discovered city with the Mesa Verde tribe, he will endeavor to trace their posterity to either the Pueblo-Bonito or the Aztec people.

The undertaking will take about two months.

During Dr. Martin's three months work in the Yucatan, he helped with the unearthing of the city of Chicken Itza whose history is known to date back to 613 A. D.

Mercer Wool Pool To Be Put To Bid

Sheep Growers Association Expects To Get The Highest Prices Since War

MERCER, Pa., June 28.—The 10th wool pool of the Mercer County Sheep Growers Association will be put to bid on next Friday evening, it is announced today by Farm Agent W. S. Hagar.

The pool is the smallest in number of pounds of any ever pooled, amounting to but 56,000 pounds. It is expected despite this fact that the best price since the war will be obtained for it, as the major portion of the wool is what is known to the trade as "three-eights", held at a high price this year.

It is claimed by the sheep growers that wool buyers paying high prices militated against the pool this year.

Farmers were paid the highest price of years and no wool delivery necessary.

GARDNER

A lot which is desirable in every way has already been purchased from the street car company and the portable school house has been brought out from New Castle. A number of men in the village worked hard last Saturday in the interest of our community church. Both the Baptist and Presbyterian churches at Harlansburg have sent a generous contribution to the fund for Gardner chapel. Their gifts are greatly appreciated and the givers have the thanks of many hearts. There was a time when all the large churches were weak and struggling and they all had to have help to get started. It is surprising what a liberal response is being made in our village But our numbers are so few we cannot expect to finish without help from outside.

Military College Student Elopes

Elopement May Cause Setting Of Precedent To Amend Rules Of College

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., June 28.—The recent elopement of Juan Roche, 21, president of the 1929 class of the Pennsylvania Military College, and Elizabeth Collier Hall, 19, of Ridley Park, to Elkton and their marriage at Maryland's Gretna Green has created considerable comment in social circles here.

Although the rules of the college state that no student may remain should he marry while enrolled it is generally believed that the prominence of the couple may be the basis for establishing a precedent in the history of the college.

Roche is the son of John B. Roche, wealthy Chester resident, and the grandson of William P. Roche, founder of the first Chester shipyards. The young bride is the daughter of one of Delaware County's oldest families. The romance of the young couple began in their childhood days.

In the mean time, Roche and his bride are completing their plans for a home here. There has been no indication as yet that Roche will be dismissed from the college.

Young Roche's mother was Senorita Julia Josefina Enriquetta Hidelago, daughter of Senor Don Hidelago and Countess Czarina de Vries of Mexico.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, June 28.—A handsome Russian who in czarist days was a military attache at embassies of his country in European capitals is supporting his social career in New York as a professional blood giver. He gets $100 a quart for his life fluid.

At a smart affair the other evening he received a phone call and rushed to his hostess with apologies. "A very dear friend has ben taken to the hospital." He is used to making such excuses for he is subject to call at any time and in the fashionable circle in which he moves with hopes of obtaining a rich wife there is the impression he is an adviser on Russian affairs to a Wall street concern.

He appeared at the hospital in evening attire and went through the operation nonchalantly. When it was over and the doctor was examining him the Rusisan casually asked the patient's name. He likes to keep a record of those whose blood is mixed with his. Not always however do hospitals supply this information.

"The patient is Miss——" said the doctor giving a name in the Social Register.

The blood-giver was startled. "Good lord! I spent half of last week's blood money for orchids for her."

After refusing to accept his usual blood-giving fee the Russian exacted a promise from the physician that the young woman would never learn his name.

"Your blood saved her life" the doctor told him.

"I'd die of shame if she knew I did this for a living" was the repsonse.

The doctor who told me this didn't think it was suitable for publication. 'becaues nobody will believe it." But truth is stronger than fiction.

Felix Shoepolish most celebrated cat in New York is dead. Ironically his passing went unchronicled in the metropolitan newspapers.

For 10 years Felix was master of Zoe Beckley's house in West Tenth street. Miss Beckley, noted writer is hostess of a salon that at one time or another attracts all the celebrities. Felix discovered that not only may a cat look at a queen but a cat may sit in a queen's lap. For he knew Queen Marie of Roumania whom Zoe Beckley visited in Bucharest and collaborated with in the preparation of stories.

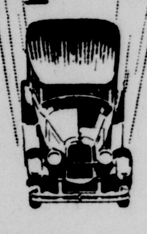

When a newcomer apepared at the Buckley home Felix either displayed his disapproval by leaving the room or by immediately recognizing the visitor as a comrade and climbing the newcomer's leg to the lap for a snooze. He was constant in his likes and dislikes. He never made up with persons he ignored on a first meeting.

The scion of a noted family sent his finance salling for Europe a bon voyage basket that cost $1,000. It contained besides the usual candy, fruit and books, a fluffy white poodle tied with silk ribbons and nestling in silks and furs. The basket itself a work of art was trimmed with antique embroidery and lace. A shop specializing in bon voyage gifts puts up a box of candies priced at $100 and sells many of them.

Two man-eating lions which got rid of 135 persons have been mounted and placed in a museum where survivors of the 135 may go to hold memorial services.

Remodelling Work Nears Completion

Dr. Smyser Departs On 700 Mile Non-Stop Trip; News Of New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 28. — Remodelling operations which have been going on in the Music Conservatory building of Westminster college here are almost completed. The back room which was a small auditorium has been made over into a lecture room with a level floor.

The space under the new room will be used for storage by the college and the whole project will probably be completed with the work of the painters tomorrow and Saturday.

After carrying on for most of the month of June, the local Vocational Bible School will finish its work with appropriate closing exercises tomorrow in the local United Presbyterian church.

Rev. J. E. Rich and his staff of teachers have been conducting the school five days a week since commencement of the college.

A view of the modernness of the cafeteria that will operate in the new college men's dormitory here was furnished today by a glimpse at the finished installation of most of the equipment in that part of the building.

With its completely modern and ultra-efficient furnishings, the college cafeteria will be all that it is claimed to be.

After spending the whole year away at school Glen Schaffer, son of Mr. A. Schaffer of New Wilmington arrived here yesterday to spend the summer vacation at home.

Dr. R. S. Smyser left here early yesterday morning to travel by road to Boston, Mass., and from there to his summer home on the shores of Cape Cod. Intending to drive the 700 mile trip without a stop, Dr. Smyser took Tom and Robert Jones of New Wilmington for traveling companions and to take a turn at the wheel of his car.

Harold Guy and Miss Margaret Guy of New Castle visiting the college town yesterday to play on the Phi Pi Phi fraternity tennis court here.

Drunks Talk Way Out Of Sentence

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., June 28.—The stories related by four old-time police offenders recently won their release when arraigned before Alderman Eugene Alberstadt.

Curtis Goucher, 42, no home, said his arrest was caused by the first drink he had taken in many months. Thomas Brady, 71, no home, attributed his downfall to association with "a bad bunch" while James Murray, 57, a sailor, said he fell a victim to moonshine when he missed his boat.

It remained for Tom McGovern, 50, no home, to give the best story of the lot. McGovern declared that the rain had caused him to drink.

Big Celebration For July Fourth

Plans Being Made For Making Eagle Scream At Cascade

MANY FEATURES BEING PLANNED

For the biggest holiday of the year Cascade Park, New Castle, Pa., has a double appeal which will take thousands of persons there for the celebration of the Fourth of July. In the first place it is a complete amusement park with every facility for a day of fun and recreation. In the second place its eighty acres of natural beauty afford the picnickers rest spots galore, so that it is ideal for the all-day outing of family or motor party.

Cascade this season is better than ever. Tilt-a-whirl, the new and thrilling ride that has had a sensational success, is only one of the new features added at the park, while all the standard amusements are to be found there at their best, together with such attractions as the Famous Gorge Ride that cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

The midway has been prepared for one of the biggest days in Cascade's history next Wednesday. New features will be found here that will add greatly to the day's fun.

Dancing will be a feature of the celebration for thousands of park patrons starting at noon and continuing through the afternoon and evening till midnight, while a special feature will be a display of fireworks such as Cascade is noted for throughout Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

In Rainbow Terrace with its elaborate electrical effects especially arranged for the patriotic observance, the music for the dancing will be furnished by Morrell Starke's Terrace Garden orchestra. This organization of versatile musicians has won the admiration of hundreds of dancers from this section as one of the very best dance bands it has ever been their pleasure to hear.

The orchestra introduces many novelties in its programs. Special stunts have been prepared for the Fourth, including vocal choruses with many dance selections and the violin trio which has made a great hit in the waltz selections.

Another part of Cascade that will draw many for the holiday is the swimming pool, the largest in this section of the country, which has a capacity of 5,000 bathers. The triple pools not only provide for the great number of ordinary bathers, but also offer special facilities for divers and fancy swimmers and also for the youngsters, one pool of shallow water being especially constructed for the little boys and girls.

Close by is Crystal lake, a beautiful body of water, equipped with fleets of row boats and canoes and with a power launch.

For the children there is a special free playground and a Kiddies Midway, filled with amusements for the little folks. The playground is in charge of trained nurses and attendant, so that the tots are well taken care of.

The great parking field at Cascade gives accommodations to thousands of automobiles while the picnic grove and pavilions care for the largest crowds with ease. For those who make the day the occasion of a basket picnic there are free electric and gas cooking facilities, while for others the splendidly equipped restaurant, barbecue and lunch stands supply excellent refreshment.

Manager Carl L. Shaner has left nothing undone to make Cascade the premier outing park of the season. On the Fourth he plans to be host to the largest crowd that has ever entered its gates.

Three Thousand At Mission Picnic

Annual Rescue Mission Picnic At Cascade Park Draws Throng

TAKEN TO PARK ON SPECIAL CARS

Three thousand youngsters are happy today. This is the annual picnic of the City Rescue Mission and the weatherman relented enough to send out his prettiest smiles. As a result Cascade Park is filled with boys and girls today who are enjoying themselves to the full, as the guests of the City Rescue Mission.

At nine thirty this morning hundreds of them were on Washington street waiting for the special street cars. It was at first decided to load them at Mercer and Washington but the size of the crowd meant a blocking of traffic and they were loaded on South Beaver street instead.

Plenty Of Noise.

What a crowd they made. Loaded into the street cars they insisted upon yelling their enthusiasm at passersby and the trip from the downtown section to Cascade Park was a cavalcade of cheers.

Arrived at Cascade Park they scattered to enjoy themselves as they see fit, but at noon there was but one drawing point, and that the grove. Long before the noon hour the youngsters were lined up at the entrance waiting for the signal to rush in and seat themselves and at the signal a stampede resulted.

Lunches for 2700 were provided by E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the Mission and the large corps of women who aided him. Sandwiches, cakes, ice cream and lemonade were present in abundance and the youngsters made short work of the plates set in front of them.

This afternoon they are the guests of the park enjoying the amusements free of all charge.

Summer Resort Hotel Burns Down

Winola House Near Scranton Is Destroyed; Loss Is Estimated At $150,000

(International News Service)

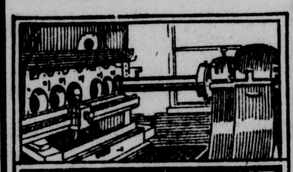

SCRANTON, Pa., June 28.—Fire early today destroyed the Winola House at Lake Winola, Wyoming county, with a loss estimated at $150,000 and became so threatening that fire companies from this city were rushed to the scene to check the blaze.

Hundreds of people at the summer resort stood by helplessly while firemen fought desperately to save a score of summer homes nearby as the Winola House was reduced to ruins.

Auto Damaged By Fire Early Today

Firemen were called at 1:35 a. m. today by an alarm from box 38 to 119 North Ray street, where they found the automobile of A. H. Holfelder on fire. The damage done amounted to $75. The back seat, cushions and top were damaged by the fire, which it is believed was caused by some unknown person dropping a cigaret or cigar on the cushion.

REGROUND-THE SEASONED BLOCK IS FAR BETTER

Bear in mind and consider thoroly the FACT that new cylinder blocks are GREEN and not seasoned (practically annealed) like the old block.

When WE regrind the old worn or scored block we make it BETTER than a new block—and we increase the power over its RATED AMOUNT.

Regrinding (our way) saves time and money.

Car Collides With Curb Light Post

Arthur Rohrbaugh of Poland township, Ohio, and James Fundoots of West Pittsburgh, were enroute west on Washington street at Greenwood avenue last night about nine o'clock, according to the report made to the police, when Fundoots made a right hand turn onto Greenwood avenue. The cars were side by side and in order to avoid hitting the Fundoots car, Rohrbaugh found it necessary to run into the curb light post at the corner of Greenwood avenue and Washington, breaking the globe and doing other damage to it. The city is now seeking an adjustment for the damage done from the owners of the two cars.

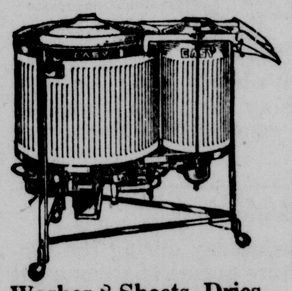

Tapping wires to get evidence won't make much difference. Nothing is done to disturb the wires the big criminals pull.

Take Equipment Out To Y. Camp

Camping Season For First Group Of Boys To Open Thursday

TO ERECT TENTS FOR Y. YOUNGSTERS

Trucks today are taking equipment to the Y. M. C. A. on the Slippery Rock creek, in preparation for the coming camping season of the Y., which will open Thursday, July 5, when more than 60 of the younger members of the boys' department are taken to camp.

Four members of the Y. staff are at the camp site today, declares Robert L. Meermans, the secretary, where they are setting up tents so that the camp will be in readiness as soon as possible. This year there will be a small colony of tenters along the banks of the Slippery Rock. There will be six sleeping tents, a mess tent, a headquarters tent, a 20 by 60-foot recreation tent, the cook's tent and a cook shack.

While almost completed, the cook shack will receive more attention from the carpenters later in the week.

Visitors are welcomed to inspect the camp site Wednesday, July 4 when all will be in readiness for the camp. The first period of camping will last from July 5 to July 19. From July 19 to August 2 older boys of the Y. M. C. A. will use the camp.

Woman' 77, To Fly With Daughter In Hop Over Atlantic

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., June 28. — A 77-year old mother may essay a flight over the Atlantic ocean. She is Mrs. Lena Ledbetter and is planning a flight from New York to Paris with her daughter Miss Unity Ledbetter, 33 an experienced and licensed pilot. The mother has been learning the art of flying from her daughter. In that case it would depend upon who was first to alight upon foreign soil to determine technically the fist woman to conquer the Atlantic the daughter pointed out.

The two women plan to use a tri-motored Ford plane to start about August 15, Miss Ledbetter announced. She indicated they might take a third part preferably a man as a member of the crew.

"Mother and I are anxious to get started" Miss Ledbetter stated "In fact we can hardly wait. We don't consider the flight anything like impossible."

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 28. — Peering at three marathon dances in the Pittsburgh district, this is what was seen today:

Three negro couples in Motor Square Garden here were slowly shuffling through the 415th hour, while promoters and contestants uttered mournful groans because of the scarcity of cash customers. The three couples broke the local record at the 304th hour, and were reported three hours behind New York marathoners.

Nine white couples, still dancing at the 348th hour in Duquesne Garden here, were tendered gifts and prizes by friends, business firms and individuals among the large audience which crowded this affair.

Twenty-one couples were dancing at Homestead at the 36th hour.

Russians Laud Man Denouncing God At Daughter's Funeral

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, June 28.—A peasant father who assumed the role of a priest and over the body of his own infant daughter delivered a funeral oration denouncing God and attacking religion, is winning peons of praise in the press throughout the land as an "advanced and intelligent" peasant.

The whole village of Kalinovka in the Amur river valley, Siberia, came to the funeral to hear what Ivan Poplavsky had to say after God, in the popular belief, had robbed him of his only child as punishment for his desertion of the church. Ivan placed a big star on the coffin.

"There is no God," Ivan began. "Our daughter died of typhus because the water in the village well is polluted. There is no God who has power to kill like the bacteria which the wise men in Moscow can see only with the aid of powerful eyeglasses."

The body in a red draped coffin was lowered without a prayer. That night a play was given in Ivan's honor at the village theatre. It was called "The Great Communar", and showed how Lenin died muttering defiance of a supernatural being.

"Ivan is brave," muttered the peasants, "but we don't agree with him."

Elected Principal Of High School At Harlansburg

Prof. Porter McCandless of Slippery Rock was elected principal of the Harlansburg high school at a meeting of the board last night. Prof. McCandless was formerly principal of the Mt. Jackson high school. His wife, Mrs. Porter McCandless, was elected to teach a primary grade.

Clarence Eckles was elected to teach the upper room in the Harlansburg school and Miss Florence Patton Young to teach the McCaslin school. Miss Young is the third teacher to have been elected to the McCaslin school for this year, the other two having resigned.

Demands Better Rural Schools

Grange Leader Tells Ohio Teachers What Farm Children Need

CEDAR POINT, O., June 28.—Demand for better rural schools, which will meet the problems of education confronting those living in the rural communities, was voiced before the Ohio State Teachers' Association here by L. J. Taber, national master of the Grange.

Describing the expansion of American agriculture. Taber traced the relation between this—rapid development and the need for corresponding increase in educational facilities.

"We must have good rural schools," he said. "We must also have the proper text books and equipment.

"But more important still is the necessity for competent teachers who are rurally minded and capable of understanding the problems and aspirations of the young people in their care."

Vocational agriculture is the coming movement in rural development, Taber said. He appealed for greater appropriations to carry on the work of the Smith-Hughes vocational law.

The shop was operated by Richard Kaslin. Kaslin, his wife and child, who were asleep in their apartment above the shop, were uninjured.

County detectives, investigating the bombing, were without clues as to the perpetrator or the motive. Damage to the shop and nearby business establishments was estimated at approximately $10,000.

Women's Union Label League Has Banquet

Successful Anniversary Event Takes Place At Grange Hall, Wednesday Night

Celebrating the fifth anniversary of the organization of the Women's Union Label League in this county, the members and their husbands enjoyed a reunion dinner Wednesday evening in Liberty Grange Hall on the Harlansburg Road. The celebration was one of these well rounded successes, and there is no reason to wonder at that, after eating a dinner prepared by the women of the Liberty Grange.

Following the service of the dinner which was nearly perfect as such a thing could be, Alec Skunder, husband of the Recording and Corresponding secretary took charge as toastmaster. After explaining the purpose of the Union Label League Mr. Skunder called upon a number of the guests for short addresses and the following responded.

President Nellie Johnson, past president Mrs. Fred Pennington, fourth vice International chairman Mrs. Emma Augostine of Youngstown, Organizer, Mrs. Lizzie Dray of Youngstown, O., Fred Pennington, and Bart Richards.

The addresses were brief, each speaker touching upon the league activities as he saw them. Following that, the guests adjourned to the assembly hall of Liberty Grange where a sacial program was enjoyed, cards and music furnishing the divertisement.

The officers of the league follow:

President, Nellie Johnson; first vice president, Mrs. Isabelle Pitts; second vice president, Mrs. Mary Matthews; financial secretary, Nora Vogan; recording and corresponding secretary, Eleanor Skunder; treasurer, Ide Beebe. Trustees, Sisters, Reeher, McIlwain and Wagner.

Mine Workers Union Result Is Foreseen

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 28.—Although official returns will not be available until Saturday night, early returns in the election of officers in local unions of the United Mine Workers of America in district No. 5 today indicated a victory for the United Mine Workers over the "save-the-union" faction, according to union organizers and field workers.

"Save-the-union" officials, however, are confident that many of their men would be elected to offices in the local unions before the elections close on Saturday night.

Patrick T. Fagan, president of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, and Thomas Robertson, international organizer, are in Bellaire, O., today, where they are scheduled to address miners' meetings both today and tomorrow.

Talk Of Separate Peace Stirred President's Ire At Writer's Conference, But He Controled It

WOODROW WILSON.

(This is another of a series of stories about former presidents and their wives termed "In Memory's Portrait Gallery" by the writer, Idah McGlone Gibson. Mrs. Gibson personally interviewed the persons of whom she writes in such an entertaining manner.)

By IDAH McGLONE GIBSON, Especially Written for Central Press and New Castle News.

The day before the peace treaty was signed President Wilson received the American credit correspondents in one of the parlors of the Hotel Crillion.

We were assembled when the president came in. He was looking pale and wan, but the familiar smile lighted his face as he leaned against the wall facing about 25 reporters for the American newspapers. Only three of these were women.

The president remarked that he was at our mercy—with his back against the wall—and then the questions began.

That morning American cables had carried the news that Senator Albert B. Fall of New Mexico (later in the oil lease scandals), had proposed that we scrap the peace treaty and enter into a separate peace with Germany, and one of the men (I think it was Wm. G. Sheppard, press association correspondent) asked: "Mr. President, what do you think of the peace proposal?"

The President is Told.

Turning quickly to the questioner the president said he had not heard of it as he had not seen the papers that morning.

A dozen eager voices offered explanation.

It was then for the first time that I saw President Wilson angry. His hands which were hanging loosely at his sides were clinched so tightly that his knuckles showed a bluish-white. His face was suffused with a red that became almost purple before it died away into its accustomed pallor.

He forced himself to smile as he said, "I think I can best say what I think of it by telling you a story.

"When I was a boy the town in which I lived had a way of disposing of its garbage by hauling it up a long steep hill and burning it in a place outside the city limits.

Wilson's Opinion of Him.

"The man who drove the garbage wagon was the most profane man I ever have known. We boys used to follow him just to hear his pyrotechnic English as he urged his laboring horses up the hill where he rested the sweating animals a few minutes before they again resumed their way to the disposal site.

"One day we decided upon a brilliant idea. Watching our chance we lifted the loose wooden strip which acted as tailboard to the rickety wagon and then we crept behind him up the hill expecting to hear something more wonderfully profane than we ever had heard before.

"Slowly he ascended the hill without much picturesque English as usual for as the horses hauled the wagon up the steep grade a path of foul smelling garbage was left and the load grew lighter.

"Reaching the summit of the hill he got off his seat and looking back he saw that shining path strewn with garbage.

"For a moment he stood silent and than with a groan he said desparingly 'There ain't no words.'"

Change Is Made In Amusement Tax

Theatre Tickets Costing Less Than $3 Are To Be Tax Exempt

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The new tax rates on amusement tickets will go into effect at midnight.

The law exempts from taxation all admissions costing less than $3. Ten per cent will be imposed for tickets sold in excess of $3 each, except in case of ring bouts. Amounts paid for admission by season ticket or subscription will be taxable only if the amount which will be charged for a single admission exceeds $3.

It was announced that admission tickets sold by theaters, operas, etc., prior to midnight for more than 75 cents will be taxable at the higher rates even though such tickets are for performances to be held subsequent to the date named.

In cases of theaters having tickets on hand, the established price of which is $3 or less, which show a tax to be collected from the public, collectors are advised that such tickets may be used after June 28 for a period not to exceed 60 days.

In the event it is desired to sell these tickets for an amount different from the price shown thereupon, collectors will require that the selling price be clearly marked.

The new law imposes a tax of 25 per cent upon admissions of $5 or more to pugilistic matches. It provides that a tax equivalent to that due on paid admissions be collected upon free or complimentary tickets or admissions to pugilistic exhibitions, the tax being based upon the amount for which a similar seat or box is sold.

Democrats Draft Farm Relief In 1928 Platform

Platform Sub-Committee Chairman Says Farmers Should Be Satisfied

(International News Service)

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—"We have drafted in the platform word for word what the farm societies have asked us to give them," said Sen. David I. Walsh of Massachusetts as the platform sub-committee broke up at 6:30 a. m. today after nine and a half hours of continuous session.

"Of course, we have not mentioned any bill by name, but the farmers will have no complaint against what we have given them," Walsh continued.

Colorado's Governor Refuses Ride In Airplane Or Auto

(International News Service)

DENVER, June 28—When Governor Adams of Colorado refused to ride in an airplane, the populace called him wise, but they did not know that he often refuses to ride in an automobile!

When in Denver, the governor rides the street cars or walks, disregarding the two or three automobiles he has at his disposal. When he goes to his ranch at Almosa, he goes on the train and when he arrives there he leads his trustworthy "Bronco" from the stable.

Recently the governor was obliged to make a trip to Fort Collins. Train connections to that city from Denver are inconvenient, so the executive was persuaded to ride in an automobile. When he climbed into the back seat of the high powered machine, he said to the driver, who was the son of a state official:

"All right, young man, I'm doing this once. But don't you speed along at any 25 miles an hour."

Every Class Since 1889 Expect To Be Represented At H. S. Reunion Friday

There will be representatives of practically every class from 1889 to the present time at the annual reunion of the Alumni of the New Castle High School Friday afternoon and evening at Cascade Park. In fact, from all reports obtainable, there will be a record attendance of all former students of the high school and especially of the later and larger classes.

It is said that the class of 1913, which has taken the attendance cup for two years must look after its laurels this year, if it hopes to retain the cup this year and permanently. There are several others classes with their eyes on this handsome trophy and they are out to win.

The class of 1928 will be out in force. The members will be the guests of honor on this occasion and it is up to them to turn out and show the older boys and girls how it is done these days. They are the ones who must carry on "tomorrow" and if they fail to attend Friday, there is much to said for the future of the Alumni Association.

All classes as far as possible are to gather in the grove at 6:30 p. m. for a picnic dinner. This will be one of the high spots in the reunion and those desiring to attend the reunion and also attend the Boy Scouts benefit will have plenty of opportunity to do so.

The later part of the evening will be spent at the dance pavilion and the feature of the dance will be the grand march. All classes are asked to be present in this event.

Dues are but fifty cents and this small sum will be sufficient to perpetuate the association another year.

Scouts At Camp Enjoy Boating

New Feature Added To Scout Camp Activities This Summer

LARGE DELEGATION REGISTERED AT CAMP

With more scouts registered than ever before have attended the first period of the camping season at Camp John M. Phillips, the Lawrence County Council, Boy Scouts of America camp on the Slippery Rock creek, the boys are now settled, and everything points to a most happy camping season, says Le Roi Norton, the camp director.

Each year it is a pleasure for the camp staff to add new features for the benefit of the scouts. Along with several other attractions, boating has been added to the roster of camp amusements, and many of the boys are taking advantage of it. The boats are of the best type construction, and because of the constant watchfulness of the camp staff, boating at the camp is very safe and enjoyable for the boys.

The honor system, which was established at the camp last year is again being enforced. Jack Ball of New Castle, won high place Tuesday for the entire camp with 115 honor points. Clyde Shannon of New Castle troop 17 took second place with 90 points. Wednesday's high boy was Ralph Boyd of New Bedford, who amassed 155 points, while John Kegarise, also of New Bedford, ranked second with 140 points.

The archery range has been relocated and was used for the first time Wednesday. Because the new range is more suitable more boys will be able to take part in the sport.

Herman Nolte, swimming director at the camp, was in charge of the first visitor's night program, which took place Wednesday evening.

Although camp has been opened only for a few days, a large number of parents and friends of the boys have visited the camp and acclaimed it one of the best camps in Pennsylvania. Not only individuals, but large groups have journeyed to the camp site. The Siamio members are expected to visit this evening. It is planned by the Lions club to dedicate their new hut tonight. The program will be in charge of the Lions club troop 13 who are now in camp.

Much enlarged, the Indian village, which was started last year, is again open. All scouts who have earned enough points to justify their living in the village took up quarters Wednesday. They will be under the direction of John Boston.

To the delight of the campers, the trading post has been opened under the direction of James Metzler. To date, the business has been very large, and is increasing daily.

All In Readiness For Opening Of Y. W. C. A. Camp

Camp East Brook, The Y. W. C. A. Summer Camp Opens Saturday

All is in readiness for the opening of Camp East Brook on Saturday of this week.

The camp staff went out to camp this week and everything is ready for the first day of camp or will be by Saturday, at the summer camp sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association of the city.

There is a promise of a fine season at camp this year. With capacity crowds each week. At the present time fifty-five persons are registered to be in camp the first week. Just five persons short of the camp capacity. The second, third and fourth weeks of camp are filled to capacity, these are weeks beginning July 7, July 14 and July 21. There are also some registrants for all other weeks of the camp season.

Many recreations are on the camp program, including baseball, outdoor basketball, soccer, goffy-golf, speed ball, croquet, horseshoes, tennis, swimming, boating, picnics, parties, campfires, hikes, as well as classes in nature study, camp craft, first aid, and a course in life saving. The camp staff includes the following persons:

Miss Phyllis Beal, camp director.

Miss Helen Cooper, of Slippery Rock, in charge of nature study. She is also a life saving examiner and will be in charge of a life saving course.

Miss Margaret Reed, camp secretary.

ACT TO PREVENT SUB ACCIDENTS

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Steps to study means to prevent submarine disasters were taken Wednesday by the Navy department with the establishment of a board of five technical experts to analyze more than 4,000 plans for submarine safety devices submitted since the sinking of the submarines S-51 and S-4.

The board will convene here Friday, Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of naval operations and acting secretary, said today.

The members are: Thomas A. Scott of New York, former president of the Merritt-Scott-Chapman & Co., an authority on salvage operations; Dr. W. R. Whitney of Schenectady, N. Y., director of the research laboratory of the General Electric Co., and Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, both retired.

The board originally was proposed by Secretary Wilbur to investigate the S-4 disaster last December but later was designated to extend its activities to the study of submarine safety devices and salvage operations after Congress had authorized an appropriation of $200,000 for the inquiry.

Steal Locomotive To Take "Joy Ride"

DARREN, Pa., June 28.—The theft of a narrow gauge locomotive owned by the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company in which to take a joy ride landed Allen Hallenbaugh, aged 23, and Charles Harkens, aged 21, in the Sheffield jail.

The youths, arrested in their homes at Sheffield last night, admitted stealing the locomotive, from the Tionesta Valley railroad yards at Sheffied, according to police.

They ran the locomotive seven miles to Brookston and deserted it after returning to Martin station.

Railroad officials said the locomotive was damaged when it was run at a high rate of speed. It was used to haul log cars and when stolen it had been banked with fire in preparation for the next day's run.

Mr. Stark is conceded to be one of the best pilots in the business and several times he has received an honorable mention from the United States government, it is announced. With eight years of commercial experience in transport flying, Mr. Stark was formerly connected with the Landsdowne Municipal field at Youngstown.

Mr. Bradford says that Mr. Stark is probably one of the greatest stunt fliers in the country at the present time, and he demonstrated his ability about a month ago when he amazed the crowd that assembled to see the Ryan monoplane land at the New Castle airport after its trip across the country.

As soon as Mr. Bradford is able to get another plane from the manufacturers, he will start a flying school at the airport and Mr. Stark will be the instructor. He is capable to do this work, as he is licensed by the government not only as a pilot but also as a skilled aircraft mechanic.

Governor Smith Listens To Nominating Speech And Houston Tumult

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., June 28.—Governor Al Smith last night heard, if he could not see, the demonstration at Houston when his name was placed in nomination for party standard bearer at the Democratic national convention. And his foremost thought seemed to be of the "first Lady" of the Empire State.

"They are crowding around Mrs. Smith's box," came from the big radio set up in the executive mansion, where the governor got his first-hand description of the convention.

"Crowding around Mrs. Smith's box," he repeated to his daughter, Emily, now Mrs. John A. Warner, wife of the superintendent of state police. There was a boyish grin upon his face.

Suddenly for the first time in the riotous demonstration the sound of a band came through the ether blaring forth the old familiar tune, "The Sidewalks of New York." It was being played at that moment in slow waltz tempo. With another and broader grin the governor sung into a typical Bowery waltz step, ending with a slow side kick which would have won the approval of any Broadway dancer.

Then in a moment he was serious again. Now he was leaning close over the radio.

"If we only had television now we could see your mother standing right up in the box there," he remarked softly to his daughter.

There was the suppressed feeling of history in the making in the little group that gathered in the executive mansion last night to hear the governor's name placed in nomination. First the photographers, movie and still, had their innings, with dazzling Klieg lights set up temporarily in the reception room.

A group of perhaps thirty occupied the chairs which had been set about the radio.

The governor's only comment on the proceedings during the night came at the end of the nominating speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt and at the height of the demonstration in his honor. He said:

"I enjoyed Mr. Roosevelt's speech very much, and the demonstration, too."

When for the first and only time the nominator mentioned the name of "Alfred E. Smith," a smile lighted the governor's face. His daughter was sitting on a low settee close beside her father. Her hand stole over and clasped his.

"It is wonderful," said the governor, "just think of it, in this same house Grover Cleveland sat and knew nothing about what that convention was doing until he got a telegram telling him he had been nominated—not even a telephone wire."

Neuritis Gone; Whole System Cleansed By Ten Herbs, Mahoning Road Lady Says

Ten Herbs probably has gone into more homes in this city and throughout this section than any other medicine. The reason for its tremendous success is due to the fact that it does not act on one organ alone, but benefits and cleanses the whole human system, thus ending aches and pains arising from a clogged-up system. Many reports telling how this great natural medicine promptly ended rheumatism and neuritis are reaching the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this new herbal compound.

"Ten Herbs gave me relief from the awful pains of rheumatism and neuritis," said Mrs. Mamie Crawford, R. F. D. 2, Mahoning Road, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man. "No one knows how I suffered," continued Mrs. Crawford, who is 63 years of age. "I could hardly get around—could not go up or down stairs—because my feet and ankles were so badly swollen. I had to be careful what I ate, as food did not digest properly. Gas would bloat me and cause my heart to palpitate until I would be frightened. My liver was disordered; and I was constipated. My kidneys were not working right, and I was in agony all the time.

"I tried every kind of medicine I heard of, but Ten Herbs was the only one that gave me relief. I began to improve while taking the first bottle; and now all the swelling has left my feet and ankles. I am as energetic as I ever was, and can eat anything without having any distress afterwards. My liver is active, and my bowels regular. My kidneys function properly, and my whole system seems to have been cleansed by your medicine. I gladly give Ten Herbs my endorsement."

Ten Herbs is widely used and highly recommended for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and as a tonic for young and old.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

France Collects Duty On Imported Monkeys

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 28.—Monkeys might make good eating, declared the French customs officials recently when a shipment of orang-outangs arrived for the zoo from Sumatra, and thereupon charged 12 per cent duty for the entrance of the animals.

Monsieur Ruhe, animal merchant, assured them he was bringing them for exhibition purposes only, but the authorities said one could never be certain and some clever French chef might have unrevealed secrets on delicious monkey dishes.

Each one of the new arrivals costs the city two dollars and a half a day for its food, which means chiefly bananas.

Old "Relic House," Chicago Land Mark Will Be Torn Down

(International News Service)

CHICAGO June 28—"Relic House" one of the few remaining north side landmarks of Chicago, soon will make way for a modern development, it is believed, as result of the purchase of the ground on which the building stands, by a commercial house.

Since the Chicago fire, the house, constructed mainly from the "ashes" of the blaze, has stood at the corner of Clark street and Lincoln park, west.

Souvenirs of the World's Fair of 1893 were added to the structure, and it became one of the show sights of the "old Chicago". For years it was used by its own, Henry Schoellkopf, as a German beer garden, and like many other gardens, collected relics of the earlier life of the city.

The purchaser, who acquired the ground from the estate of the late Henry Schoellkopf, is reported to have drawn up plans for a new building, and razing of the structure is expected in the near future.

What will become of the hundreds of relics gathered in the old house is not known.

Great Britain Soon Island Of Spectacles

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 28.—Great Britain is becoming an island of bespectacled people, according to Owen Ayres, chairman of the London Refraction hospital and former chairman of the Institute of Opthalmic Opticians.

"There are more glasses worn in Britain than in any other European country," Ayres says. He puts this down to the increasing stress of modern life.

Between 10 and 15 million people wear glasses in Britain, according to Ayres.

There are various kinds of weeds which cause illness and under the law the owners of land upon which such weeds grow can be prosecuted, Solicitor White states.

Girl Flier And Two Male Companions On Atlantic Hop Sail For United States

(International News Service)

SOUTHAMPTON, June 28.—I can hardly wait to get to Boston" declared Miss Amelia Earhart, America's noted feminine flier, when she sailed for New York today on the liner President Roosevelt.

Miss Earhart was accompanied by the other two members of the crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Friendship—Pilot Wilmer Stultz and Mechanician Louis Gordon.

The American passengers already on the liner gave Miss Earhart a cordial reception when she went aboard.

"I have had a glorious time in England and hope to return as soon as possible but America will look good to all of us" Miss Earhart told International News Service.

Captain H. H. Railey, Eurepean representave of the Friendship's flight also returning on the President Roosevelt. The whole party attended a farewell dinner at the Southwestern hotel last night.

Thirty From Western Pennsylvania Gather At The Castleton Last Night

Because they were unavoidably delayed, Colonel Edward Olmstead, executive director of the American Hotels corporation, and Emerson D. Owen, public relations counsel for the American and United chains, did not attend the meeting of the Pittsburgh Hotel Men's association, which took place Wednesday evening in the crystal ballroom of The Castleton.

About 30 hotel managers from the Pittsburgh district attended the meeting, the first one of its kind to be held in New Castle. The meeting was preceded by a dinner, engineered by Stewart P. Howson, steward of the hotel.

East Brook Woman Badly Injured By Fall Down Stairs

Mrs. Jesse Carr of East Brook is slightly improved from injuries sustained Monday evening when she fell down the cellar stairs at her home.

Mrs. Carr sustained a severe gash across her face. Twelve stitches were required to close the wound. She also suffered many bruises about her head and body.

The accident happened when she tripped at the top of the stairs and fell headlong the entire flight.

Playgrounds Are Becoming Nuisance

Numerous complaints are being received by the police at the present time concerning conditions that exist at the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school playgrounds. According to residents of the district, this playground has become the scene of boy and girl parties and activities until the wee small hours of the morning and the result is that the people cannot get their proper rest owing to the noise caused by these boys and girls who should be in their homes.

The police are investigating.

WEST PITTSBURG BOYS MISSING

Police Asked To Aid In Locating Pair Who Left Home Yesterday

Richard Boozel, aged 12 years, and Philip Cross, aged 10, both of West Pittsburg, according to the report made to the city police today by the father of the former, left their homes Wednesday morning to come to New Castle. They were last seen about 9:30 a. m.

It has so far been learned that the missing boys told Mike Bates, aged 14, of Moravia stop, that they planned to go to Cleveland and Chicago. The Cross boy had between seven and eight dollars in his possession when he left home.

The police have learned that the boys on Wednesday evening purchased tickets for Pittsburgh. It is believed possible that they are now visiting relatives of the Boozel boy in Pittsburgh. Efforts are being made to locate them there.

Richard Boozel wore a blue suit, long trousers and brown cap when he left home. Cross wore a sweater and light cap and short trousers and was carrying a raincoat.

The police are making every possible effort to assist the father in locating the missing boys.

Lord's Prayer Unknown By Incoming Prisoners

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—Although 98.5 per cent of the population at Ohio penitentiary professes affiliation with some religious denomination, not one prisoner in four years has been able to repeat the ten commandments and the Lord's prayer to the clemency board when so requested, although one or two negroes have almost succeeded with the Lord's prayer.

This observation is contained in the annual report of the state welfare department just made by Director John E. Harper to Gov. Donahey.

"The religious data is collected from the individual prisoners and older men know that it pays to claim some kind of a religion," Director Harper said in his report. "Prisoners themselves must smile when they glance at the funny page of prison statistics—the page devoted to the religion of its inmates.

"The entire population on June 30, 1927, was 3,422, hence those without religion were fewer than 1.5 per cent, or in other words, 98.5 per cent of the population had religion so well defined that, excepting some 432 who call themselves merely 'Protestants', they know to what sect they belong. If this be true, the quickest way to 'save' Ohio is to lock the people up in prison."

Religious figures gleaned at the penitentiary, Mr. Harper continued, "have very little value and cannot be used as the basis for any form of argument."

Many prisoners are converted while in the penitentiary, Mr. Harper said.

The "attention of all church people in Ohio" is called by the director in his report to the religious census at Ohio state reformatory, where the population is composed largely of youthful offenders. At the reformatory 20 per cent of the prisoners received in the last four years profess no religion.

Explorer At 80 Ready For Another Trip

STOCKHOLM, June 28.—Sweden's globetrotting botanical explorer, Sven Johan Enander of the Lillherrdal, is now, despite his 80 years, ready to set out on another expedition, this time to the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Enander who aside from his extensive botanical research work also holds the position of pastor in the small community of Lillherrdal has for 40 years collected various species of the sallow family—trees similar to the willow—and his adventurous trips in search of these plants have carried him around the world. Among the countries he has visited on several occasions are Japan, China, Alaska and Greenland aside from nearly every state on continental Europe. Both before and after the revolution he has journeyed far into Russia.

Hundreds of specimens of sallow have been collected by Enander, who has photographed them, pressed and described them in the greatest detail. In his garden at Lillherrdal there are many varieties growing under his tender care. Others are found in the Botanical gardens at Stockholm and Upsala. His work on the species of the Scandinavian sallow, issued periodically, is subscribed to by prominent botanical associations in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Russia, France, Germany and the United States.

Realizing his international fame and the great work he has accomplished, the Swedish Riksdag has awarded the aged savant a subsidy of $3,215 to help him finance his forthcoming American trip. It is possible that he will return to Sweden via the Himalaya mountains which he has not yet explored and where sallows are to be found in great abundance.

Voronoff Says Monkey Glands Will Aid Race

By J. KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 28.—An emphatic denial that his methods of rejuvenation by monkey gland grafting will ultimately lead to the degradation of the human race is made by Dr. Voronoff, in reply to charges that his theory would bring about the breeding of a race of supermen with the characteristics of an ape.

His present visit to London, and the fact that this theory and practice is making great headway here, where he already has several hundred patients, is causing considerable alarm in certain scientific circles.

Laughs at Fears.

Attempts have been made to issue warnings to the people that his experiments and operations involve "fearful" dangers to the future of the race.

"These," says Dr. Voronoff, "are baseless fears. I know it is alleged that my operations involve the danger of turning men and women into apes, or at least inducing simian characteristics in those treated or in their offspring, but such a thing is impossible.

"I have been responsible for more than 1,300 grafting operations in seven or eight years, and in no case has the most careful observation discovered the smallest sign of such characteristics. All of my operations have been successful. I have never had a failure. Not one.

New Hope For Man.

"My work has now passed out of the experimental stage. My theories of 20 years ago have been translated into facts, and I believe I have given mankind a new hope.

"A general application of my work would result in a new world. Aging men and women would be vitalized to a point inconceivable today and humanity would enter a new period of history—a physical and mental renaissance surpassing that of the dreams of poets and painters."

Over Niagara Falls In Giant Rubber Ball Is Planned For July 4th

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., June 28.—Jean A. Lussier, Springfield, Mass., a former parachute artist and motorcycle racer, seated in a 600-pound rubber ball, eight feet in diameter, plans to "ride Niagara Falls in safety and be one of the few to live and tell the tale."

Lussier, after planning for the "stunt" for more than a year, is in Akron negotiating with a rubber company for the construction of his unique sphere to be completed by July 4, when he expects to "bowl across the falls".

The Springfield, Mass., man intends to "go over" in a somewhat different manner than the four successful Niagara "navigators". Lussier says he will ride in his ball on an airplane and be tossed into the Niagara river just above the American falls.

The ball is to be weighted down in order that "the man inside sitting in a compartment can make the trip 'heads up' as it were," Lussier explained.

After Two Weeks, Body Is Recovered

POMEROY, Ohio, June 28.—The body of Carl McDonald, aged 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McDonald, of Pittsburgh Coal Company's mine, Racine, Ohio, was recovered from the Ohio river here by the crew of a ferry steamer. The boy was drowned two weeks ago.

Chicago Will Stop Overloading Trucks To Prevent Illness

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 28.—Noisy trucks, that batter along over the pavements with a racket and din that grates on the ears and nerves of the public may be the direct cause of many nervous breakdowns and much sickness, in the opinion of City Health Commissioner Dr. Arnold H. Kegel.

An investigation into the overloading of trucks has been started here by council committee on efficiency, economy and rehabilitation, and the health aspect is one that will be included.

Constant vibrating of buildings, noise and dust are among the evils attributed to overloaded trucks.

City dwelling, he pointed out, constantly reduces the efficiency of men and women, even at its best. The commission intends to eliminate, as far as possible, the cases of the urbanites mental distress.

"The average person may not notice the ever present demands on his vitality of the city life," Dr. Kegel said, "but they are there, nevertheless."

Apparatus that a few years ago was utilized for measuring the noise of elevated trains will be used to measure the clatter of overloaded trucks, the commissioner said.

Damage to the city's streets, from overloading, is estimated at slightly more than $1,000,000 a year, according to Dr. Kegel, and loss of health is incalculable.

John Aeberly, industrial expert, J. T. Connolley, chief sanitary engineer, and Dr. Gottfried Koehler are among the men who will aid in the investigation.

75 Homeless Girls Make Suicide Plot; Foiled In Attempt

(International News Service)

KIEV, Ukraine, June 28.—A suicide plot involving 75 former homeless beggar girls between the ages of 10 and 16 was frustrated in the government orphanage near here two hours before its attempted execution.

One little waif of 13 got cold feet, crawled out of bed at 10 o'clock and told one of the attendants that at midnight half of the girls in the dormitory were going to drink poison and the other half were either going to hang themselves with bedsheets or hurl themselves out of the windows.

Tired of the dreary life in confinement, disgusted with ragged clothes and foul food, the girl said, her sisters had taken a pledge at a meeting to end the misery in a manner so startling that the government would be forced to provide decent conditions for thousands of other homeless.

The girl, failing to convince the attendant, produced a phial of poison and begged her superior to sound the alarm. The dormitory was searched and 40 phials of various poisons were found tucked away under the pillows. They were obtained from the chemistry laboratory in the orphanage.

Members In This Club Must Eat With Fingers

WALSALL, Eng., June 28.—No knives and forks. Eat with your fingers.

That is the rule of the "Finger club" which exists at Bloxwich, Walsall. Women are not allowed to join.

The "Finger club" holds a monthly supper, at which the menu usually consists of such things as sausages, jellies, pickled onions, bread and cheese, all of which have to be devoured with the aid of the fingers only.

As in the case of the Ancient Order of Frothblowers, there are small penalties for infringement of the rules.

The use of any cutlery means drinks all round.

New members, according to the secretary, have most trouble with jellies and pickled onions.

Warfare will end when all nations have a law confiscating the profits of all citizens in wartime.

Aviation Shows Prove Interest In Air Projects

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 28.—A rapidly increasing interest in aviation is evidenced in New England by the elaborate flying shows planned in connection with the dedication of the enlarged Barnes Airport at Westfield and Holyoke, Mass., and the new airport at Lowell, Mass. The Barnes airport shows was held May 25 to 27, while that at Lowell will be held June 21 to 23.

First dedicated four years ago, but now enlarged to nearly four times its original size, the Barnes airport boasts of a modern and commodious hangar just completed. Nearly fifty planes took part in the races and other events. One of the features was a small airplane contest.

At Lowell the new field is rapidly nearing completion and the feature of its dedication ceremonies will be the attendance of the Navy dirigible Los Angeles.

New Services

A new aviation company, the H. and H. Transportation Company, has been recently incorporated at Hartford, Conn., to conduct passenger service and air transportation work at the Hartford airport. An aviation show was held at Hartford a short time ago.

The Colonial Air Transportation Company, in checking the air mail load out of and into New England when first organized in 1926, learned that twice as much was coming in as was being carried out. Now however that condition has reversed itself, and they carry out of New England double the load that is regularly brought here.

First steps toward the establishment of two airports in Rhode Island, one at Island Park, Portsmouth, and the other at Howard, are under way.

Build Airports

At Springfield, Mass., options have been obtained on 350 acres of land in East Agawam, where according to present plans, a new airport suitable for use by both airplanes and dirigibles will be constructed.

If the site is approved by aviation authorities, financing of the purchase and the development of the property is expected to be arranged by Springfield business interests. According to proponents of the plan, the field if developed would constitute a "Class A A A" field, the highest rating established by the Department of Commerce.

At New Haven, Conn., the city's option on land for an airport has been extended.

American Girl Talks To Prince Of Wales At Dance In London

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 28.—Miss Vera Tompkins a charming American who is paying a visit to this country, is certainly the happiest visitor here, for, she has had a chat with the Prince of Wales.

While attending the League of Mercy ball at Lansdowne House the prince noticed he was standing in front of Miss Tompkins and thinking he was obstructing her view said:

"Can you see."

"Sure I can" she replied.

The prince then asked her if she was an American and if she came from New York. He then insisted that she should take his place.

Interviewed afterwards she declared:

"When the Prince visited the United States there was a dance given in the Seventh Regiment armory. You can imagine the enthusiasm. We girls were told to line up and shake hands with him.

"Well in the scrimmage I was so pounded and bruised that I retired from the fray. And now after eight years I am in London and have had the honor of speaking to the Prince.

"You can imagine" she concluded, "how happy I am."

Urge Reforestation Of 1,300,000 Acres Of California Land

By CLEM WHITAKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 28.—According to a survey completed by State Forester M. B. Pratt, California has approximately 1,300,000 acres of land that can be planted to trees. And much of this area, Pratt declares, will reforest itself if merely afforded fire protection.

Where fire is kept out, nature is prolific in re-seeding denuded areas, the forester says, and even dense brush fields in the timber zone will be reconverted into forests if flames do not destroy the seed and young sprouts.

Pratt's report singled out the beautiful Russia River country, playground of the bay cities, as an example reforestation. Most of the people who visit Sonoma County consider these great trees "virgin" timber, he asserts, while in fact they are the new generation, averaging from 50 to 60 years in age.

"This object lesson of nature's reproduction system is interesting," comments the state forester, "because it gives us a vision of what nature will do with man's co-operation, or minus his interference. There are thousands of acres of cut-over lands in California that will reforest naturally, without man's assistance, if we but safeguard them from fire."

APPROVES CABINET

BERLIN, June 28.—President Von Hindenburg this afternoon gave official approval to the new coalition cabinet formed by Chancellor Herman Mueller and it will begin to function at once.

ELECTION SUNDAY

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, June 28.—Gen. Roberto Cruz, chief of police for the federal district, today directed elaborate precautions to prevent disorders in the presidential election on Sunday. Troops and police will be on guard in the federal district, Vera Cruz, Jalisco and other centers where trouble is feared. As there is only one candidate, Gen. Alvaro Obregon, a light vote is expected.

NON-STOP FLIGHTS

THERE has been so much in the papers lately about non-stop flights that everybody yawns and says "Ho-hum" when they read about them. . . . . .

But there's a non-stop flight story that never did get the publicity it deserves. It seems a man by the name of Maxwell flew into the Delco-Light home office and said, "Our Delco-Light has run a total of 20,075 hours. This is equivalent to 38 years of average farm service. This is such a remarkable record that I wanted you to know about it." . . . . . .

Let the non-stop boys try to beat that one. But then—you've got to expect such records with a Delco-Light.

Here's How Some of the Safety Staff Spend Their Spare Time

Six of the girls employed on the headquarters staff of the National Safety Council at Chicago spend their spare time, during the lunch-hour period learning polychrome work under the guidance of Auguste Mathieu of the council's poster division. The other man in the picture is W. H. Cameron, managing director of the accident prevention institution, who is shown admiring the first piece finished by a member of the class. The students delight in learning how to decorate vases, magazine racks, candle sticks and plaques.

New Castle Clings To One Family Dwelling As Against Apartments

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28. — While the city dwellers of the country as a whole are moving into apartment houses, New Castle is sticking to the American idea of one-family houses. No apartment houses were built last year, but the percentage of two-family dwellings built was nearly three times as great as in 1926.

Of the 182 New Castle families provided with new quarters last year, 80.2 per cent got one-family dwellings, as against 90.3 per cent in 1926. In 1927, 19.8 per cent of the new quarters provided were in two-family dwellings, and while in 1926, 7 per cent of the 227 families provided with new homes got the min two family dwellings and 2.6 per cent in apartments.

Statistics from 257 cities having a population of 25,000 a year or over show that in 1921, 58.3 per cent of the families provided with new homes got one-family dwellings, 17.3 per cent got homes in two-family dwellings, and 24.4 per cent got apartments in multi-family dwellings.

In 1922, 47.5 per cent got one-family dwellings, 21.3 per cent got quarters in two-family dwellings, and 31.2 per cent in apartment houses.

In 1923, 45.8 per cent got one-family dwellings, and 33 per cent in apartments.

In 1924, 47.6 per cent got one-family houses, 21.5 percent got quarters in two-family dwellings, and 30.9 per cent in apartments.

In 1925, 46 per cent got one-family houses, 17.5 per cent got quarters in two-family dwellings, and 36.4 per cent in apartments.

In 1926, 40.7 per cent got one-family dwellings, 13.9 per cent got quarters in two-family dwellings, and 45.4 per cent in apartments, and in 1927, 38.3 per cent got one-family dwellings, 13.4 per cent got quarters in two-family dwellings, and 48.3 per cent in apartments.

The Labor Department comments that these statistics would seem to indicate that many American cities are becoming more like the cities of Europe in the character of their dwelling places. In the cities of Europe, the apartment house has long been the most prevalent kind of residential structure, while American cities have previously largely housed their inhabitants in one-family dwellings.

Swick Presented More Than Hundred Bills For Relief

Congressman Active In Presenting Individual Bills At Last Session

Congressman J. Howard Swick of the 26th district, introduced 111 relief bills in Congress during the session which has just closed, it is announced today by the Pennsylvania Congressional Bureau of Washington, D. C. Mr. Swick also introduced three public bills and resolutions.

Pennsylvania's 36 members of the House of Representatives introduced 1707 bills, and of this total 1351 were pension and relief measures; 356 were resolutions or bills of a public character. During the entire session of Congress, a total of 14,143 measures were introduced in the House of Representatives, with the Pennsylvania delegation presenting over 12 per cent of them. In the Senate there were 4,600 bills and 451 resolutions, with Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, presenting four resolutions and 126 bills.

Out of the total of bills presented, 4,617 became laws, of which 624 were public laws and 302 were relief measures, aside from pensions.

It is also stated that three Pennsylvania naval officers are included in the list selected for promotion by the Navy Department with the approval of President Coolidge.

Chicago Chatter

BY IONE QUINBY

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

CHICAGO, June 28. — Chicago's strangest character is a "newsboy" they call "You". He hasn't any particular stand, but every rounder in the Windy City's Loop knows him by his strange and unseasonable dress. In the hottest weather or in the cold of winter "You" is always dressed the same. He wears a half a dozen coats, including overcoats and raincoats, over his tired little frame as he makes his rounds.

"You" is about 80 and he always carries an armful of newspapers. Some are a month or more old. A few are timely of the same day, but only the real friends of "You" get the live sheets. His papers are garnered from the wayside—papers folks have bought, read and thrown away.

Wearing badges or buttons is one of the old "newsboy's" hobbies, and you'll find badges on him dating back to the 1893 Chicago World's fair and the horse and sleigh derbies of the eighties. His only friends appear to be the firemen of the Loop barns, where they have known him for years. They say he'll smoke anything from a herring to a perfecto.

Over 30 years he has walked Madison street, and still no one is able to tell just who "You" really is. When he is asked a question he answers "How should I know?" Which about hits the nail on the head.

"How should I know?" is what a lot of Chicagoans would like to say to questions put to them daily. The information man at the Union station is paid to give out information concerning trains and timetables, but here are some the questions he has to answer:

"Where can I get married in a hurry?"

"Where can I get a boa constrictor cheap?"

"Who names the Pullman cars?"

"Where can I get a shower bath?"

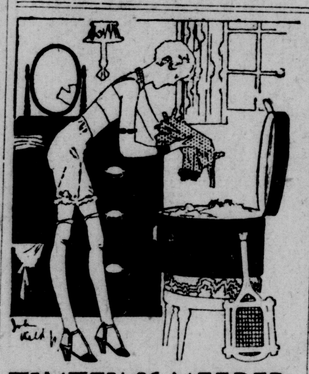

"Is there a pension for mothers with twins?"

As to boa constrictors you can get a bargain in anything from a snake to diamond bracelets in Maxwell street, Chicago's near west side. Maxwell street is one of Chicago's famous trade marts, where everything under the sun is sold at bargain prices, and where Sunday is the principal trading day of the entire week. A stroll through this section on a busy day is entertaining as well as instructive for here members of virtually every race on earth gather to strike bargains with the shrewd vendors who operate the street stalls.

If you want to buy a maltese cat, a 1913 derby, old clothes, old furniture and countless commodities from foreign lands which are not obtainable in the city elsewhere, go to Maxwell street.

The lower class doubtless is the one that is paying $52 a month on a car instead of $82.50.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE LONELY EGG

"'Have I ever been taken captive by a Two-Legs?' Ostrich nodded his funny head. 'I should say I have,' declared he. 'I spent several years on an ostrich farm, and I never had such a good time in my life. When I met you, although you may not believe it, I was just making up my mind to go back. Wife wants to. But we shall have to wait until the eggs are hatched. I'll tell you what I will do, though. After you have made wife and me a short visit, I'll trot you over after dark and introduce you to a friend of mine on the farm, and he will take you two little birds under his plumes and show you about You have no idea how interesting it is. I am tired of roaming. I am getting to be an old bird, and it is time for me to settle down. Besides, it is so comfortable to have one's plumes cut every season. They do get to be be a heavy, hot load to carry. By the way, it is getting time for me to take my turn and set. Hold on now! Off we go again!'

"This time Ostrich turned and ran along the bank of the stream. Mrs. Bobolink and I were sorry to leave the grassy plain—it was so green and cool there—but in almost no time at all we found ourselves out among sand hills. Oliver Ostrich slowed down his pace to a walk. Suddenly he came to a stop.

"'Gracious, I nearly smashed it that time!' exclaimed the Ostrich, and stared at something right beneath him. Of course we looked to see what he saw. Lying in the sand was a huge thing, oval and smooth. Wifie and I though it was a stone.

"'How could you smash that rock?' asked I. 'Even with the strength of your foot, I shouldn't think that you could break a stone and what would it matter if you did?'

"Oliver Ostrich shook with laughter.

"'Stone!' cried he. 'Why, little birds of the north, that is an egg! An ostrich egg.'

"We Bobolinks were astonished.

"'An egg! That—? Impossible. But if it is, why is it lying here all alone?' asked I.

"'That I do not know,' answered Oliver.

"'There must be a reason,' insisted Mrs. Bobolink. 'Unless there were good cause to do so, what mother could have the heart to lay an egg and then run off and leave it. How could she expect it to hatch out. Think, Oliver Ostrich, do! You must have some idea why this egg is here, all by itself!'"

Do Unto Your Hands As You Would Have Them Do Unto You

By Edna Wallace Hopper

How many times it is said that a woman's hands betray her age. If this is true, start right now the pleasurable game of betraying your hands. The real truth behind the saying is that your hands will be kind to you if you show them a little consideration. It is simple.

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

I know that my hands have responded marvelously to it. Every time I wash them in my theatre dressing room or at the hotel, I promptly counteract the effect of soap and water by rubbing on briskly my Youth Hand Lotion.

This is a wonderful treat to the skin. Even the first application will show you. Your skin will absorb the lotion as quickly as a plant consumes moisture after the rainfall. It leaves your hands smooth and dry, and you can put on gloves immediately after using. Soft, white, lovely hands will be yours. You will realize how much your skin needs this soothing attention.

Always keep a bottle on your dressing table or bath room shelf. And most of all you need one where you work—whether your daily tasks are in the home or elsewhere.

WHY did Heinz go into the cereal business?

Because the House of Heinz, after years of research work, was convinced that it was possible to make a contribution to your health and enjoyment by the production of a cereal food entirely different from any other already on the market.

Heinz Rice Flakes are the result.

But to give you Heinz Rice Flakes it was necessary to develop an entirely new process of cereal-making.

By this patented process, certain qualities of the whole rice grain are combined in such a way as to impart a new health-giving quality to the flakes. This is the first and only time that the natural cellulose or roughage content of the rice grain has been entirely retained in a cereal, giving to Heinz Rice Flakes the properties of a gentle, natural laxative.

Most important of all—you will say—is the delightful flavor of this new cereal. An entrancing, nut-like flavor that has no likeness in any cereal you ever tasted.

All in all, Heinz Rice Flakes are just what Heinz set out to perfect... an entirely different, more edible, better tasting, more healthful, crispier, crunchier cereal food . . . ready to eat with milk or cream and a little sugar.

This is Heinz contribution to the cereal-making industry and to the health of the nation.

HERE IS ENGINEERING

that really means something to the Automobile Owner

THERE'S a deal of talk these days about the engineering back of this or that car. Most of it covers a multitude of sins or the lack of something definite to talk about in the cars themselves.

Even in the face of this situation, we want to tell you what Reo engineering means to the buyer of a Reo Flying Cloud. Because Reo engineering can be measured by Reo owners in terms of dollars and cents, of performance and comfort.

Here, precisely, are some of the facts about Reo engineering.

1. Reo engineers have the same experimental facilities that are available in any laboratory. This means that Reo engineers test carefully and select materials and parts that they know have the strength and the durability necessary to uphold the Reo reputation for long life.

2. Reo engineers will not content themselves with the road tests possible in a limited testing area. Before the first Flying Cloud ever started down the production lines, Flying Cloud engines, Flying Cloud brakes, Flying Cloud clutches, transmissions, steering gears, axles—every integral part—had been subjected to hundreds of thousands of miles of terrific punishment on the highways of the Middle West, through the sands of the deserts, over the rocky trails of the Sierras, through the muds of Louisiana bottom lands.

3. Reo engineers are admitted leaders in their field. There may be—probably are—others of equal skill and foresight. But Reo engineers are unique in their freedom to develop their ideas and put into effect their plans. For Reo engineers are unrestricted by a financial policy, built of necessity around a huge indebtedness; Reo engineers are unhampered by the production problems imposed inevitably by a large, immobile plant; and Reo engineers are supported by a capable production personnel whose loyalty to Reo is reflected by the lowest rate of labor turn-over in the industry.

4. Because of these conditions, Reo engineers are free to take advantage of new developments quickly, free to pass these along to Reo buyers more promptly, free to direct the production of automobiles which embody engineering ideals rather than production requirements.

These facts about Reo engineering will take on additional significance the moment you compare Reo Flying Cloud performance, comfort, ease and construction with any other car. There's one near you—try it for yourself.

Platform Nearly Ready To Adopt

Democratic Convention Resumes Session; Oratory On Nominations

GOVERNOR RITCHIE SECONDS SMITH

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAM HOUSTON HALL, HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—Peace and harmony, long strangers at Democratic conventions, loomed large over Sam Houston Hall today as the weary delegates trooped back in the hot Texas sunshine for several hours more of oratory before adopting the platform and selecting a ticket agreed upon in advance.

Platform Likely To Be Adopted Today

As the session got under way it appeared certain that the platform could be disposed of by tonight, which will leave tomorrow for the ratification of Gov. Al Smith's nomination and the selection of Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas as his runningmate.

The accomplishment of this program would make this the shortest Democratic national convention since 1916, when the Democrats, then in power at Washington, met at St. Louis and merely endorsed Woodrow Wilson for another term.

The intense heat that had billowed and eddied about the big auditorium all this week was relieved somewhat today by a strong gulf breeze. For the first time since the convention opened the flags that decorated it profusely were waving about.

Four names—Gov. Al Smith of New York, Evan Woollen of Indiana, Senator Walter F. George of Georgia and Congressman William A. Ayres of Kansas—were before the convention when it resumed its labors. The session was to see more—Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, Cordell Hull of Tennessee, ex-Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, Jesse Jones of Texas, who brought this convention to his home city, and possibly that of ex-Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, although the Ohioans have already decided to make Governor Smith's nomination certain on the first ballot by giving him the bulk of their votes if he needs them.

The gladsome news was circulating about the floor at convening time that the platform builders had pretty well succeeded in ironing out their differences. Everybody appeared in a good humor—even the pessimists who came to Houston fearing a repetition of Madison Square Garden, split on the prohibition issue.

Convention Session Opens

At 10:35 o'clock, although only a third of the delegates were present, Senator Joe Robinson decided to inject some efficiency into this convention, at least in the matter of starting time, and he called the convention to order. It was the only session of the convention thus far that has got under way anywhere near the hour fixed.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. J. Frank Smith, pastor of the First M. E. church of Houston. The delegate sections were filling up rapidly as the prayer was finished.

The roll call of states for the continued presentation of names for the Presidency proceeded.

Maryland sent to the platform her three-time governor, Albert C. Ritchie. The band went off into "Maryland, My Maryland', and the handsome chief executive received a great ovation.

Governor Ritchie seconded the nomination of Governor Smith, in whose favor he withdrew his own candidacy some days ago.

Nominates Reed

When Missouri was reached, Charles M. Howell came forward and gave the convention the name of Sen. James A. Reed.

The Missouri delegates came to their feet yelling and shaking cow bells as Howell stepped out in front of the microphones, and it was several minutes before he could proceed. The bands got going and in the midst of this pre-speech demonstration there was produced from somewhere a big picture of the Missourian's "fighting face."

It was the first time that the convention has been treated to a pre-speech ovation and Robinson finally quelled it by appealing for quiet so that Howell could proceed.

Howell was frequently interrupted by applause, with the Missouri delegates leading and the Reed supporters scattered through several other delegations joining in. All of them seemed equipped with cow bells, and they rang them lustily at every opportunity.

Howell concluded at 11:55, after having spoken for 35 minutes, and the Missouri delegation, with their state standard and a picture of their candidate, started a parade through the aisles. Florida joined in. The Reed parade was "dressed up" with American flags and a great canvas banner bearing the legend "Win with Reed."

After one swing about the hall to the raucous din of the Missouri cow bells, Oklahoma's standard was taken into the procession by the Reed men of that state.

The other delegations, however, stood fast and smiled and joked with the perspiring marchers.

On the second swing about the big area, a new banner made its appearance in the marching column.

"Turn the rascals out—Reed."

Nebraska came into the show at the end of five minutes, and so did the Philippines' standard, although the six votes from the territory are listed in the Smith column.

There was a struggle over getting the Kansas standard into the march. Reed's friends in the Kansas alternate section wanted it to go in, but the Smith delegates objected and there was a scuffle which resulted in the snapping of the staff. The Reed alternate triumphantly carried it along, however.

The standard of the Kansas delegation stood fast and was not included in the procession.

Three bands were tooting away as if their lives depended upon it, but nobody could tell what the tunes were. The din of the cow bells was terrific. It sounded like New Year's Eve or Hallowe'en night.

Vagabond Children In Russia Go North For Hot Months

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, June 28.—Homeless children, following the warm weather north, are receiving a cool reception at the hand of the Moscow police. Authorities are determined to keep the streets free of urchins who rob fruit stands, snatch pocketbooks and pilfer food from market baskets, and incidentally make an extremely bad impression on summer tourists.

As fast as they make their appearance, the police round them up, place them in children's homes or send them back to the villages from which they came. Recently more than 200 were arrested, most of them whom had documentary evidence to show that local soviets unable to cope with the problem of their maintenance had shipped them to Moscow and passed the buck to the higher authorities in the capital. A sharp reprimand to village authorities accompanied the boys on their return trip.

Special police have been detailed to railway stations to pick up the urchins as they came through after riding the blinds to the city. Most of them are boys 15 or 16 years old who know no trade except stealing, at which they are extremely skillful, and who escapes from institutions whenever attempts are made to confine them.

Weather Men Plan To Make Ocean Safer For Atlantic Fliers

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 28.—Weathermen of eight nations in conference here took steps to protect trans-Atlantic fliers from the fatal whims of the elements.

On the proposition of Dr. Charles Frederick Marvin, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, they agreed to cooperate in centralizing reports and forecast so that aviators would have the most complete knowledge of meteorological conditions along the entire route before hopping off.

General Delcambre, chief of the French weather bureau spoke in support of Dr. Martin. "Most aviators possess but a rudimentary knowledge of meteorology and too often they take it upon themselves to investigate conditions, at the risk of compromising the functioning of legitimate weather service," he said.

Other countries represented were Germany, England, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Portugal.

What do you want your gasoline to do?

Increase power?

Old fashioned gasolines burn rapidly, striking the pistonhead with a violent explosion. They stop working when the piston stroke is only partly finished.

BLUE SUNOCO burns more completely. It produces greater power by pushing the piston through its full stroke with expanding gases.

Stop knocks?

The higher the knockless quality of a motor fuel, the better it is. BLUE SUNOCO'S knockless quality is extremely high—in fact it is superior to many extra priced fuels. This means BLUE SUNOCO'S abundant, flexible power will enable you to accelerate to the full limit of your motor—to climb steep hills without knocks and to greatly reduce gear shifting.

More miles per dollar?

Those better fuels, like BLUE SUNOCO, which do give long mileage, demand a premium of 3, 4, or 5 cents per gallon. BLUE SUNOCO asks no premium. Therefore it gives most miles per dollar.

Fun For Baptists At Annual Picnic

Members Enjoy Sports And Picnic Dinner In Ewing Park Grove Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 28.—The annual picnic of the First Baptist Sunday school of this city was enjoyed yesterday afternoon at Ewing Park by about 160.

E. S. French was chairman of the picnic committee and Roy Mains had charge of the sports.

The feature of the day was the picnic dinner served on tables under the trees with full and plenty for young and old.

Sports were in order during the day and many races and contests were arranged.

Perhaps the funniest and most hilarious of the contests was that called "Ladies Dress Rehearsal" in which each lady was given a suitcase containing a dress, hat and umbrella. She was required to dress and rush to a given point to report in the shortest time possible. Much merriment ensued over the event which was won by Mrs. Iva Anderson.

Mrs. Anderson was also winner of the clothespin contest. Needle-threading contest was won by Mrs. Charles Wayman.

In the children's contests John Schweitzer proved his ability to eat the most soda crackers in the event for boys from 10 to 14. Marion Nye consumed more apples than any other in the apple eating contest. The shoe race for boys from 6 to 12 was won by Roland Fleeger; treasure hunt, boys from 6 to 10, Billy Nelson; treasure hunt, boys 10 to 15 John Schweitzer; treasure hunt, girls 6 to 10, Betty Barkley; treasure hunt girls 10 to 15 Eleanor Foreman.

The nail driving contest for women and girls over 15 was won by Mrs. Bouck.

Mrs. Haswell proved herself an adept at guessing the number of pieces of candy in a jar.

The team of John Schweitzer and Donald Nye were winners in the horseshoe pitching event.

Raymond Main won the 100 yard dash for men.

At sun down the picnickers departed for home well satisfied with their annual picnic.

Public Library In New Quarters Re-Opens Doors To Book-Lovers

ELLWOOD CITY, June 28.—The public library again opened its doors to greet its friends all day yesterday when a formal reception was held in the newly completed library home in the new Masonic building.

Beautiful flowers, gifts of the New Castle library and from local patrons decorated the large airy roms and gave an air of festivity to the bookshelves crammed with reading matter for young and old, giving promise of many pleasant moments for the reading public of Ellwood City.

During the day punch and cake were served by Mrs. Kathryn Hainer, vice president of the library board, Mrs. Chester Wright and the library staff, Mrs. B. C. Barton, Miss Margery Streeter and Mrs. Glenn Hoffman.

There were six visiting librarians from Beaver Falls, New Castle and Pittsburgh present to pay their compliments to Ellwood City's latest progressive move.

The library had its beginning in the Park building, now the American Legion building with 600 books and $500. Under the efficient management of Mrs. Catherine Charles who has been librarian since its opening, it has grown until there are now 10,000 books in circulation among its patrons and an income of $8,000.

From the first month the library was an assured success. There were three times as many patrons as there were books that first month. It has been growing rapidly since

Mrs. Charles came here from the Clarksburg library at Clarksburg and has served ever since. It is to her splendid ability in the capacity of librarian that the local library has been so successful.

At the present time there are more adults than children borrowing books from the library a standard which every other library is trying to maintain.

The library is now divided by bookshelves into several sections providing for a reading room for adults, one for high school students and an office .The children's room is separate from the others and has its own entrance.

Beginning today books will be given out.

After the excellent dinner bridge was in order and prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Thomas Magee, Mrs. Charles Carbeau, Mrs. C. A. Iseman, Morry Kraus, Ralph Mains, Lee Kimes and George Rapp.

The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing.

Fractured Neck Yet Still Lives

NEW YORK, June 28.—Although John Majors, a middle aged man of Beacon, had his neck fractured in four places, the doctors attending said that he has a chance of surviving the serious injuries he suffered when he fell from a tree while picking cherries in Beacon.

Majors was working yesterday on the grounds of the home of Henry Forrestal on Fishkill avenue, Beacon, when he lost his footing on the branch of a tree and fell backward to the ground.

Although four fractures of the neck were found, none was complete or severe enough to cause instant death. The hospital doctor expressed the opinion that unless Majors is injured internally he will recover.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

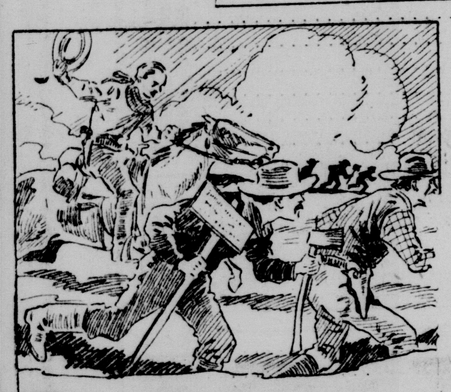

The Opening Of Oklahoma

IN 1866, THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PURCHASED THE WESTERN PART OF INDIAN TERRITORY, KNOWN AS OKLAHOMA ("BEAUTIFUL LAND"), FROM ITS INDIAN OWNERS. THE INDIANS PARTED WITH THE REGION ON CONDITION THAT NO WHITE SETTLEMENTS SHOULD BE MADE IN IT. BUT IN 1889 THE GOVERNMENT ACQUIRED FULL RIGHT TO THE TERRITORY AND PROPOSED TO OPEN IT TO SETTLEMENT.

APRIL 22, 1889, WAS THE DAY APPOINTED FOR THROWING OKLAHOMA TERRITORY OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. LONG BEFORE THAT TIME AN ARMY OF 50,000 PIONEERS AND "BOOMERS" HAD COLLECTED ON THE BORDER, TO BE READY FOR THE MOMENT WHEN THEY COULD CROSS THE LINE AND CLAIM THE BEST LOCATIONS FOR FARMS AND SETTLEMENTS.

AT NOON, THE SIGNAL WAS GIVEN AND THE EAGER HORDE SWARMED OVER THE BORDER, EACH "BOOMER" TRYING TO OUTSTRIP THE OTHERS. BEFORE SUNDOWN SEVERAL "CITIES" HAD BEEN STAKED OUT.

OKLAHOMA WAS FOUND TO BE VERY RICH IN PETROLEUM AND SOON A BRISTLING FOREST OF TOWERING OIL DERRICKS ROSE ON EVERY HAND. THE TERRITORY GREW RAPIDLY, AND IN 1907, TOGETHER WITH INDIAN TERRITORY, IT WAS ADMITTED TO THE UNION AS THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA.

OLDFIELD

Firestone Built

Takes a New Place in the Tire World!

Now that Firestone has taken over the manufacture and distribution of this high-grade standard tire, from the Oldfield Tire and Rubber Company, the Oldfield Tire emerges from the comparatively limited production class to that of nation-wide distribution and sale through 30,000 Firestone Service Station Dealers.

What does this mean to the millions of users of high grade standard tires everywhere in America?

It means that this famous tire which for more than four years has been distributed through the Oldfield Tire Company's own Dealers as the most outstanding tire on the market—commanding a higher price than any other high-grade standard tire—can now be bought at LOWER prices than those of any other tire of equal quality, durability and mileage performance.

The Oldfield Tire takes its new place in the tire world, backed by the tremendous resources of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, the advantage of a Firestone scientifically designed tread with greater gripping power, longer wear, greater comfort, security and economy and the advantage of Firestone special methods of building into tires extra mileage at lowest cost.

Johnny Risko Wins Decision From Godfrey

Tame Fight Is Fans' Verdict

Cleveland Boy Stages Comeback In Closing Rounds To Gain Verdict

GODFREY ALMOST REFUSES TO FIGHT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, June 28.—Johnny Risko, the man who won't take "no" for an answer, did us all a personal favor last night when he outmugged the all-black menace, George Godfrey, in ten tedious rounds at Ebbets field. He staked Godfrey to height, reach and 44½ pounds in weight—he gave away everything, in fact, except fighting heart and, in this important essential, the black finished so far back that I was forced to stretch a point in even giving him second place.

Risko simply "bulled" a bigger and broader man out of the decision in the last three rounds. Rushing in headlong, he drove home punch after punch to Godfrey's middle and all that worthy could do about it was to clutch the other in a series of "John Gilbert love scenes!"

Terrible Fight.

It was a terrible fight, and Godfrey was mainly responsible. The bromide that it takes two to make a fight was never so thoroughly sustained.

The first two rounds were uneventful, but Godfrey easily won the third and fourth. He swung the white man around at will, meantime clubbing that cruel right to the kidneys and occasionally hooking a left up above. The body punches had John's knees drooping.

Risko, however, stepped briskly around the mammoth one in the fifth, shooting two rights to the rotunda that made Godfrey bend double. Thus encouraged, John began charging in with a left hook under Godfrey's guard and from that moment the fight was "in".

Godfrey had no defense against that punch. From then on he fought a defensive fight.

For Risko, having bluffed Godfrey out of all fighting ideas, was now free of those right hand counters to the body and showed his appreciation by swarming all over the colored man for the last five rounds, clipping his tilted head with left swings and invariably scoring with the same punch to the body.

That was about all there was to it. The man with the big body lost. The man with the big heart won.

Ritticisms

BY BILL RITT

The newest sports event in the Idiotic Olympics is marathon dancing. The only requirements are strong ankles and no brains.

* * *

The recent dance in New York was a swell example in the latest style of being silly. Next to the Pyle bunion tourney it was the world's greatest congress of foolishfeet.

* * *

At a given signal all the marathoners began climbing over each other's insteps. From the very start it looked like the survival of the nuttiest.

* * *

The dancers started out fine but at the end of a week they could only twitch their ears. They had stopped thinking seven days before.

* * *

As the days went by the dancers slowed up until just before the end the race race looked like a convention of statues which had just adjourned.

The prize for winning was a wad of money. The others were given the right to sit down and fan their burning bunions.

* * *

Marathon dancing has proven one thing. After all, there was something sillier than flag pole sitting.

Junior Lightweights Fight Before Big Crowd At Conneaut Lake

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 28.—Maxie Strub of Erie today held a ten-round decision over Mike Ballerino of Bayonne, N. J., former junior lightweight champion, because of his fighting heart, which kept him in the ring at Conneaut Lake park last night for six rounds after injuries to both hands forced him to resort to defensive fighting altogether.

The battling Erie boy piled up a big lead in the early rounds, and despite Strub's unlucky break in the fourth when he injured both hands, the Bayonne battler was unable to overcome this lead. Ballerino weighed 134 pounds, Strub 133.

A crowd of 3500 watched the former champion lose to the game little Erie battler.

Three Of The Best — By Feg Murray

It seems that nobody can be called a real sprinter any more unless he can do better than even time for the two dash events but just because one runs 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds and 220 yards in less than 22 seconds doesn't mean that one is going to get a free trip to the Olympic games—not by a jugful! Right now there are about 25 sprinters in America capable of bettering the Olympic 200-meter record of 21.6 seconds, made by Archie Hahn in 1904 and equaled by Jackson Scholz in 1924. Three of the best of Uncle Sam's lads for one or both of the dashes are Francis Hussey of the New York Athletic club; Frank Wykoff of Glendale High School, Cal., and Aubrey Bracey, Rice Institute, Texas.

Bracey after turning in a remarkable performance at the Texas relays came into his own at the national Collegiate meet in Chicago where he won both sprints in the dazzling times of 9 3-5 seconds for the 100 and 20 9-10 seconds for the 220. Bracey's time in the century equals the world's record. To win the Texas flash had to defeat George Simpson of Ohio State University, himself a 9 3-5 sprinter.

Francis Hussey, former Brooklyn nigh school boy and national A. A. U. 100-yard champion in 1925 ran most impressively to win the 100 meters at the Eastern Olympic tryouts on a slow track in 11 seconds after winning one heat in 10 4-5 seconds. He won a place on the Olympic team four years ago.

Another Francis, Frank Wykoff of Glendale High school, jumped into national fame on June 16 by defeating Charley Paddock in both the 100 and 200-meter dashes in connection with the far-western Olympic tryouts. Wykoff who was chosen on the 1927 All-American interscholastic team for the "100" and the broad jump equaled the Olympic record of 10 3-5 in the 100 meters and won the longer sprint in the phenomenal time of 20 4-5.

Opponents to Tod Morgan, world junior lightweight champion, who was born on Christmas day will readily admit that he has something in his sock.

Harlansburg Tops East Brook 3-2

The Harlansburg baseball team downed East Brook, 3 to 2, in a game played Tuesday at the Harlansburg field. The game was one of the best played of the year at Harlansburg.

C. McKee, on the mound for East Brook, held the Harlansburg team to three hits, but poor support lost for him. The East Brook team had five errors. B. Miller pitched good ball for Harlansburg, fanning 18 men. The features of the game were catches by D. Mayberry, B. McMillin and A. McCreary.

Yanks Lead By Eleven Games

Yankees Now Have Eleven-Game Lead In American League Pennant Chase

GIANTS TOPPLE PHILLIES, 11-8

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 28.—Cornelius McGillicuddy, nee' Mack, adjusted his lightning calculator today and morosely estimated that his Athletics must gain one game a week on the New York Yankees for the remainder of the season in order to nose out the world's champions. The A's lost to the Yanks yesterday, 7 to 4, and now trail them by eleven games.

The White Elephants were forced to jump through Henry Johnson's hoop yesterday, being unable to get a hit off the Bradenton, Fla., sheik in the last five innings. The Yanks chased Lefty Grove and scored four runs in the eighth.

Returning to Boston, the Red Sox went crazy with the heat and blistered the Senators twice, 4 to 1 and 1 to 4. The Sox clouted 29 hits while Ruffing and Morris held the Nats to 11. Taitt, Boston outfielder, had a perfect day at bat with five hits in the nightcap.

In the only other game scheduled, the New York Giants captured a wild 11 to 8 slugfest from the Phillies. Each outfit scored four runs in the eighth inning.

Schedule Committee Will Meet Tonight

The members of the schedule committee of the Church League will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of arranging for the many postponed games. There is quite some business of importance to be taken up and it is asked that there be a full attendance. The meeting has been called by the secretary.

Junior League

The Castle Cubs downed the Mud Divers 4 to 3 in a game played at the Ryantown field on Tuesday night. The game was a pitchers' battle between Gray and Picarro, with the former the more effective. Gray and Tomilla led the hitting.

Helen Wills, queen of American courts, set back the first challenger for her world singles title yesterday at Wimbledon when she defeated Elsie A. Goldsack, hard-court champion, 6-2, 6-1. Molla Mallory lost to Miss L. Bickerton 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Tex Rickard is preparing to complete a deal for the purchase of the New York Giants, according to one New York report, which says he has been dickering with the Stoneham interests but the money consideration has not yet been divulged. Another report says that no deal is under way.

Rosey Stoy of Lancaster fought Eddie Shea of Chicago at Philadelphia last night and lost the decision in a bristling 10-round bout. Shea won by virtue of having the Lancaster lad on the canvas twice.

Mosely And Coen To Hurl Saturday

Cleveland Opposes Cents Saturday In Booster Bill

EXPECT BIG CROWD TO WITNESS GAMES

George Textor and his league leading New Castle team of the O. and P. league, will present an unusual treat to the baseball fans of this vicinity by putting over the first Booster Day attraction held here this season on Saturday afternoon, at Centennial Field, by playing a twin bill with the strong Cleveland Tellings. The umpire will shout "play ball" for the first encounter at 2:15 o'clock D. S. T. and the second tilt will start immediately after the first. The affair will be held for the benefit of the team and therefore, a record breaking crowd should engage in celebrating the affair as the whole team has played exceptionally good ball this season.

Although the locals are leading the league, the first half championship is not yet safely under their belts as they have the strong Beaver Falls Elks trailing them by something like two full games. There still remain five games on the "Cents" schedule, and should they lose both encounters, the Harvey aggregation have a chance of not only tieing the locals but a possible chance of nosing them out of the first half championship. Then, again, if the Textorites win the opener and the nightcap, the championship is practically safe in New Castle.

Use Their Best Team

The Tellings will use their best lineup, so as to attempt to avenge for their defeat handed them a few weeks ago at Massillon, O. With all these facts up to Textor's aggregation, both games should be hard fought throughout by both teams.

The playing and hitting of Hogan, Leonard, Grimes and Company, should cause the Clevelanders lots of trouble. The above have been hitting the ball considerably.

George Textor will likely choose Earl Mosely his star ace, to mound duty for the first encounter, with "Jewie" Coen twirling the nightcap. Who the Tellings will pit against the the two local twirlers is a question which will be answered at game time.

One paid admission will admit one to both games, or two games for the price of one.

Harry Blitman Beats Canzoneri

Weight Prevents Blitman From Wearing Title Today

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Harry Blitman, young local southpaw featherweight challenger, is the uncrowned champion of his class in the opinion of some 15,000 fans today who watched him trounce Tony Canzoneri, world titleholder, in ten furious rounds at the Phillies' ball park here last night. The New Orleans boy's title was not at stake, however, as both weighed two pounds over the featherweight limit.

Blitman won decisively, having the champion on the verge of a knockout several times and at the final gong Canzoneri was bleeding freely from the nose and mouth and his right eye was tightly closed. Despite the battering Canzoneri took, he gamely kept on trying. Surprising his followers, in the tenth round the little Italian came back to take the final round by a wild spurt that won him the round by the furiousness of his attack.

SORDS POINTS

On the Olympics

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth of a series of special articles on America's chances in the Olympics, written by Jack Sords, nationally known sports cartoonist-writer. Each article is illustrated by Sords, himself. These articles and sketches appear exclusively in The News. Watch for the rest.

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

It's a long way from one end of the United States to the other, so it isn't a wonder that America has turned out some of the greatest long distance runners the world has ever seen.

Probably the most remarkable man in the marathon business today is Joie Ray, the fleet, though small, Chicagoan. Joie began as a dash man, and after great success at the shorter distances went into retirement. Then he returned to action again, but this time as a long distance runner, and today is America's best hope in the long runs.

Joie's short legs have heavy duty in the Olympics to beat such men as A. O. Stenroos of Finland and R. Bertini of Italy.

In the last Olympics America pinned its hopes to Clarence DeMar, and he came in third, trailing the two foreigners mentioned. However, De Mar is no slouch. The veteran is one of the best marathon runners the United States has had in a long time.

Besides Ray and DeMar, America possesses such runners as Albert Michelsen, Harvey Frick, Bill Agee and Jimmy Henigan. Yes, sir, Uncle Sam is well taken care of in this department.

If a foreign country is going to win the marathon there will have to be some tall running done.

In the middle distances at Amsterdam it all looks like Lloyd Hahn, who can show a clean and speedy pair of heels to virtually all of the rest of the world.

Hahn looks like a stand-out in the 800 meters. He may do something, too, in the 1,500-meter event, but the 800 is his dish. He recently broke the national record for the 880-yard event and should go great guns in the 800-meter, if past performance means anything.

Hahn has beaten Europe's greatest threat, Dr. Otto Peltzer, in an indoor race here last winter. And he should also be able to hold his own against the other great European runners, which are almost sure to include Edwin Wide, Paavo Nurmi and this Seraphin Martin of France.

Don't worry about the distance races—America's well represented.

Broadcast Music Throughout Park

Dance music from Rainbow Terrace was broadcast throughout Cascade Park last night by an amplification system arranged for by Carl Shaner, manager. It was the first time in the park's history that the music was broadcast.

Horns were located near the lake, miniature railroad at the springs, Glenn pool and other places.

The amplification system is being tried out and will be kept in vogue until Sunday.

Now that people dine so much in public, the need of the times is shin guards for husbands.

GOLD SEAL BUICKS

Gold Seal Buicks are "Buicks" that are guaranteed to you the same as a new Buick. You can enjoy a Buick with its beauty, power, comfort and service and yet pay no more for it than a new car of the cheaper type. Terms are the same as on a new Buick and full satisfaction is guaranteed. Below is a list of Gold Seal Buicks with full description of each:

1927 model 26s, 2-pass. coupe, all new tires, fully equipped, rumble seat, $950.

1927 model 40, 5-pass. sedan, two doors, 8000 miles, looks as fine as new, fully equipped, $1050.

1927 model 47, 5-pass. sedan, 5000 miles. A wonderful value at $1225.

1926 model 40, 2-door sedan, just try this car and compare it with any new car at $1000 to $1200 and you will say it's as good and this car will cost you only $850.

1926 model 37 4-door sedan, Master Six at $900.

1927 model 27 4-door sedan, Standard Six at $1000.

1926 model 28 4-pass. coupe Standard Six at $750.

Remember this a Gold Seal Buick has had its big depreciation. A new car of the same price will depreciate 20% faster than a Gold Seal Buick.

Call us on phone, stop in, get a demonstration, compare our prices and quality with new cars of higher prices. You be the judge, we are here to satisfy you.

BURT SHOTTEN

Burt Shotten has the toughest job in the major leagues—trying to get the Phillies out of last place in the National.

So far Shotten hasn't had much success. The Quaker crowd is 'way down in the ruck, but the play of the team in the last few weeks has been such that there is hope of better things.

If Shotten is permitted to remain at the helm of the Phils until he has worked out his destiny, he may yet win his purpose—seventh place.

Man Returns Home After He Had Been Supposedly Buried

PHILADELPHIA, June 28. — After supposedly burying her husband, Henry, Mrs. Louise Sittner of Philadelphia was dumbfounded when he walked home, she reported to officials yesterday. She had identified the body taken from the Delaware river as her husband's and officials now will have to check up to see whose body it is.

Last week, after the body had been identified by several persons as Henry Sittner, it was buried with ceremony.

Sittner said he had been taken with a fit while looking for work June 13 and had not been discharged from the hospital until yesterday.

Love Triumphs Over Family, Court Rules

CINCINNATI, June 28.—Overruling the claims of relatives in favor of an unfulfilled romance of half a century ago, probate court today held that Mrs. Josephine Bevis, Liberty, Ind., an old sweetheart of Allen L. Foster, was entitled to the major part of his $165,000 estate bequeathed her in his will.

In their youth they were engaged to be married but objections by the girl's parents broke up their marriage plans. Foster remained a bachelor and acquired an estate in Cincinnati. Mrs. Bevis was married twice.

Upon his death he left his estate to the sweetheart he was to have married and five distant relatives brought suit to break the will.

Girl Dies Of Wound Suffered In Hold-Up

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Martha Yetter, 17, hit by a stray shot when two robbers killed Max T. Harrison, assistant manager of a theatre here, in an attempted holdup March 23, died at a hospital.

The girl was wounded in the jaw and leg as she left the theatre. Charles F. Mellon, 22, is now on trial, charged with the murder of Harrison. Orville J. Barclay, accussed as an accomplice, will be given a separate trial later. A second charge of murder will be made against them, authorities say.

54-Mile Death Race Won By Fast Driving

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—A race against death was won yesterday afternoon by a 54-mile drive in an hour.

While playing at her home in Zanesville, 2½-year-old Iris Register, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Register, swallowed a pin. It became lodged in her windpipe.

She was brought to Columbus and the pin was removed by Dr. Charles F. Bowen. The child was taken home.

Wants $300 For Getting Girl Hubby

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 28.—In the role of matrimonial agent in securing a suitable husband for Miss Pertha Bremler, daughter of Louis Bremler, one of Uniontown's well known clothing merchants, Jake Feigus of Uniontown claimed, in a suit filed here, that he earned $300 which he never received. He averred that Bremler consulted him in reference to a husband for his daughter and agreed to pay him $300 if an acceptable man was found. Feigus claimed that he picked Jacob Swartz, of Filbert, a small coke town, and that he proved acceptable. The ceremony was performed about a year ago.

Drinking Water Does Not Increase Weight

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 28.—Dr. Rufus S. Reeves, chairman of the committee on foods and drugs of the Philadelphia County Medical Society, has brought joy to stout people by stating that drinking water does not increase weight.

Dr. Reeves recently made his statement in opening the campaign of "Medical Facts Direct to the Public".

He said that one should drink between six and eight glasses of water a day and that "Adam's Ale" served three vital purposes in its consumption: a dissolvent of food, as a sewage fluid in removing wastes, and as a regulator of the body's temperature.

Family Clock Keeps Time For 200 Years

NORFOLK, Neb., June 23.—What is believed to be one of the oldest clocks in northeastern Nebraska has been keeping time for one family for at least 200 years. It is now in operation in the home of E. W. Stansberry, Norfolk.

Several years ago a piece of the mechanism wore in two, but it has been repaired and the clock keeps perfect time. For many years the timepiece told the day of the month and the time of changes in the moon, but this part of the mechanism is now out of repair.

New Concrete Posts To Guide Motorists

New concrete markers will soon point the way along Lincoln Highway, replacing wood and tin signs now in use. The new markers will be in the shape of square posts, the sides facing the motorists, bearing blue arrows indicate correct direction and the side facing the road carrying the familiar tri-colored marker above which will be imbedded a bronze medallion of Abraham Lincoln.

Aside from the medallion, the markers will be solid concrete, even to the arrows and tri-colored stripes, which will be of colored concrete.

EGYPTIANS FOND OF CATS

Nobody knows for certain just when the cat began sitting by the fire and blinking at the sparks as they flew upward, but it is believed that the old Egyptions were the first to catch and tame cats, and finally to domesticate them.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

I may be able to have room for some food by Friday afternoon, but as this is being written all the food in the county has no appeal. When I'm fed up and full I'm fed up, and that condition was arrived at Wednesday night out at Liberty Grange hall on the Harlansburg road. The Women's Union Label League had a party out there and you couldn't imagine any place more desirable for a little roaming than that dinner table.

The food was served by the women of Liberty Grange and what those ladies can do with such prosaic things as chicken and mashed potatoes is something to write a sonnet over. The chickens were springers and had been given the expert attention of some culinary artist. After eating what appeared to be about seven-eights of a chick, they passed the plate around again and suggested that you really hadn't had much the first time.

And the mashed potatoes must have been strained through a silk handkerchief, for they were as smooth as the driven snow. Picture that combination and then drown the whole thing with a couple of quarts of chicken gravy, a yard or so of fresh green peas, a heaping plate of salad.

And to all this remember that they had home baked bread. Generous looking loaves, built for the satisfaction of farm hand appetites. I lost count after the fifth slice and the fresh honey I put away with that bread represented about three days' work for a lot of ambitious young bees. And to all of this add a slab of angel food cake and a dish of fruit gelatin smothered with rich cream.

Next time the Kiwanis Club goes out of town for a meal, my vote is cast for Liberty Grange, providing they have some more of that home-baked bread and fresh honey.

If these Democrats don't get their convention over at some decent time some of us are going to have to start sleeping in the daytime. Took a radio trip to Houston last night and heard the nominating speeches.

Now that speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt's was a darb, and the resultant demonstration was a typical Al Smith demonstration, but the rest of the demonstrations were mostly synthetic. Cyanosis developed early and before they got properly started they curled up and passed out.

Some chap named Woollen from Indiana was placed in nomination. What a name for a presidential candidate. And the demonstration for Senator George was just one of those mildly pink things with a few handclaps and not enough shouting to strain an inflamed tonsil.

But Smith's demonstration was a genuine dyed-in-the-wool, blown-in-the-bottle demonstration with a lot of leather lungs jeopardizing their larynxes.

Like the Republican convention, the one of the Democrats looks to be in the bag before the string was untied.

Downtown New Castle was a convention of kiddies this morning. At 9:30 they were waiting for the street cars to carry them to the park and the weatherman was with them. And tonight there will be a lot of tired youngsters, but it will be that kind of tired feeling we all enjoy.

Biggest Ship Locks In Europe Will Open Within Few Weeks

(International News Service)

HANOVER, June 28.—The biggest locks in Europe and probably in the world with the exception of those in the Panama Canal are now so near completion at Anderten a village less than two miles from Hanover that one of them will be opened for traffic witin a few weeks.

There are two sets of locks side by side but each one operates independently of the other. They unite the old Mittelland Canal with the Hanover-Elbe Canal.

Each of the lock basins is 738 feet long and 39 1-3 feet wide. The lift from the lower to the upper lever amounts to a bit more than 49 feet. With the completion of the second lock in the fall it will be possible to lock 15,000,000 tons of shipping through between mountain and valley yearly. About 327,000 cubic yards of concrete were used in the construction.

Opening Bids For East Brook Bridge

County commissioners are opening bids this afternoon for the construction of a new bridge across the Neshannock creek at East Brook station. It is probable that the contract will be awarded if the bids are satisfactory. The East Brook bridge was closed recently because it was found to be unsafe.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

The director of a New York bank was very unpopular. One day he slipped in crossing the street and was saved from being run over by a passerby.

The director said: "Who are you?"

"I am XX, clerk in the Y bank."

"Good, my friend, have you any wish?"

"Yes, one."

"What is it?"

"That you do not let the staff know that I saved your life."
